INTRODUCTION AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Obituaries listed within does not include all deaths in the Kern River Valley, only those published in the 'Kern Valley Sun' newspaper. The first year available and copied was 1969 and this is a continuing project.

The gathering of Obituaries in book form was compiled through the efforts of the Clan Diggers Genealogical Society of the Kern River Valley, with the permission of the publishers of the 'Kern Valley Sun' newspaper. We would like to express our appreciation to these publishers for their cooperation, without which we could never have started this project.

It is our hope that this gathering of Obituaries will simplify the search for information on the relatives or friends that have gone before us and will further the interest in Genealogy.

The SURNAME INDEX includes only the name of the person deceased and does not include other persons that may be mentioned in the obituaries.

Walker Pass Crash Kills Isabella Man

A Lake Isabella man was burned beyond recognition in a flaming crash on Walker Pass Saturday and two other valley residents were injured in traffic accidents last weekend.

John Henry Lanier, 64, of Weaver Trailer Park in Mt. Mesa, was travelling along Highway 178 near Walker Pass and passed an Inyokern newsman at a high rate of speed. Lanier's vehicle went over the hill where he apparently lost control of the car and burst into flames 1½ miles west of Walker Pass. The accident occurred at approximately 5:15 p.m.

The newsman reached the scene, but said the fire had overtaken the vehicle and he was unable to reach the victim. He reported that the horn was blowing and ammunition inside the car was exploding. The car apparently grazed a large rock as it veered off the highway.

California Highway Patrol officer Verbie Pierce responded to the call with a unit from the Lake Isabella station of Kern County Fire Department. Working in conjunction, they were able to arrest the inferno and remove the charred body.

Coroner's assistant, Don Wigginton, said the body was so badly burned that even dental records would supply only sketchy identification. But, upon locating Lanier's son, a Bakersfield attorney, James T. Lanier, dental records were supplied and it was confirmed that the elder Lanier was travelling on that highway at the time of the crash.

Although the body was removed from the passenger side of the vehicle, there was only one occupant and it is possible the body shifted upon impact. With a history of heart problems, it is felt that Lanier could have suffered a seizure, but due to the extent of the burns the coroner's office could not determine the exact cause of death.

Later that evening, Arthur Plas-cia, 23, of Lake Isabella was headed west on Kern Canyon Road in his 1953 Dodge flatbed truck. He lost control of the vehicle 150 yards east of Miracle Hot Springs, skidding on the ice.

A passenger, Coleen Dove, 10, also of Lake Isabella, was treated for injuries at Kern Valley Hospital and released. Driver was not injured and reported the crash at 10 a.m. Sunday morning.

At 2:25 p.m. Sunday, January 16, Steven Michael Miranda of Weldon was apparently speeding down Fay Canyon Road in a car registered to Russell Green of Taft. Miranda reportedly went home and was heading back to pick up Green when he lost control of the vehicle, went through a fence along the roadside, and overturned.

Miranda, 25, suffered facial lacerations and went to Kern Valley Hospital via private vehicle.

OBITUARY

Kernville Man Is One Victim

Two Killed In Local Accidents

Two men were killed, one injured, in traffic accidents this week on valley highways.

Robert Allan Johnston, 21, of Kernville was westbound on Highway 178 two miles east of Southern California Edison's KR-1 power plant when his Volkswagen drifted off the roadway, struck a large rock, and dropped about 200 feet over the embankment. Johnston was ejected from the vehicle and sustained fatal injuries.

The accident occurred at approximately 3:30 a.m. Tuesday, February 8, but was not reported until 5:30 a.m. Johnston was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pelican, owners of the Arcade Saloon in Kernville. CHP officer Mike Hernandez answered the call from the Bakersfield station.

Sunday, February 6, Jimmy Dale Lewis, 24, was driving his Toyota on Highway 155 just south of Tillie Creek Road. At approximately 5:35 p.m. he hit the shoulder, crossed over to the southbound lanes and went over the embankment.

CHP officer Verbie Pierce reported that a witness said Lewis passed him, weaving and apparently intoxicated, and when he went around the curve, he saw dust where Lewis had gone over the side.

Kern County Sheriff deputies took Lewis into custody on warrant for suspicion of theft. He complained of pain at the Isabella Substation and was transported to Kern Valley Hospital by Progressive Ambulance.

Saturday, February 5, Charles Willard Thompson, 19, of Bakersfield, was eastbound on Lake Isabella Boulevard on his motorcycle, lost control on a 20 m.p.h. curve and slid into an abandoned building. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Kern Valley Hospital, according to reports by CHP officer Verbie Pierce.

California Highway Patrol reports fourteen highway fatalities in Kern County in the first five weeks of this year, two of which occurred in the Kern Valley area. Five of those fatalities occurred in the past week.

Southlake Man Dies From Vehicle Blaze

The Southlake man who suffered second and third degree burns in a vehicle fire near his home Saturday, September 10 died at University of California Medical Center in San Diego Sunday, September 25.

Walter Rigsby, 48, remained in critical condition the two weeks he was hospitalized and was pronounced dead at about 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

Witnesses said Rigsby was trying to start his modified Chevrolet van that evening and primed the carburetor with gasoline. He had driven about 100 feet when fire officials said it apparently backfired through the carburetor and burst into flames.

Rigsby ran from the vehicle with his upper body engulfed in flames. Stacy Bundy, 12, and Jay Watson, 10, were playing in the area at the time and witnessed the accident. They ran for help and Jay's father, Lee Watson, extinguished the flames on Rigsby. The van had rolled down the street and stopped in a vacant lot and with instructions from Watson, the children gathered enough hoses to reach the blazing van. Watson then sprayed water on the van until the fire was out.

Rigsby was transported by Progressive Ambulance to Kern Valley Hospital for emergency treatment and then to Kern Medical Center. Due to the severe burns on an estimated 30 percent of his body, he was taken to U. C. Med Center in San Diego by helicopter.

His death constitutes the eleventh highway fatality in Kern Valley this year.

ACCIDENT

Two Die In Accident

The growing number of visitors to the valley this year is up by 12 percent, compared to last year.

So, obviously the rate of traffic has increased as the summer months progress:

To date, there has been 10 auto related fatalities, just in the last seven months, compared to 6 deaths for all of '77.

Just last week two more collisions were reported.

The first incident happened on July 13, 1978 (see photo) when Michael Sutcliffe of Wofford Heights was south bound on Burlando Road and Oscar Perez of Los Angeles had been stopped, then just started moving to pull off on the south side of the highway, when he was struck from the rear by Sutcliffe's 1960 Buick. There were no injuries reported.

The second incident was reported at 9:30 p.m. on Friday, July 14, 1978, on Mt. 99, where Donald Rawson of Johnsondale and companion Donna McKinty of Kernville were traveling south bound at excessive speed and loss control on a right curve and slammed off the right side of the roadway overturning down a 70 foot rock inbankment into the Kern River, just 1/2 a mile north of Campground 2.

The couple were pinned in the '64 Plymouth for 1 1/2 hours, before CHP Officers could have them rushed to Kern Valley Hospital by Bohn's Ambulance, there they were pronounced D.O.A., the cause of death was apparent drowning.

ACCIDENT

Two Persons Killed In Valley Accidents

Automobile related deaths reached 12 last weekend as accidents claimed the lives of a Wofford Heights resident and a Bakersfield man.

The first accident resulted in a coordination effort on the part of California Highway Patrol officer Jim Malouf and Kern County sheriff's deputies.

Last Friday morning fishermen reported seeing a car underway near Kern Valley Marina.

After investigation by officers on the scene and the pulling of the car from the lake the body of David Wooden, 22, was found strapped in the vehicle.

Kern County Coroner pronounced Wooden DOA at the scene.

Malouf estimated that the accident occurred on July 16, the last known time Wooden was seen by anybody. The officer said apparently he was travelling at a high rate of speed, lost control, and plunged over a curve just east of the Marina.

Fatality number 12 for the Kern River Valley so far this year was Dennis Harper, 22, of Bakersfield.

Last Sunday Harper slammed his car into a boulder on Highway 178, west of Borel Road. He and a passenger, Kim Anderson, also of Bakersfield, were transported to Kern Medical Center.

Harper was DOA while Anderson is listed as being in satisfactory condition.

OBITUARY

Dewey Collins

Kern County lost one of its most colorful citizens with the passing on January 2nd of Dewey Collins.

Dewey was born August 15, 1898, in the mining town of Claraville atop Piute Mountain. His parents were Martina Collins, a full blood Piute Indian of the Kawaiisu tribe, his father, Barney Collins, was a white miner who worked the mines of Piute Mountains.

Dewey lived most of his life less than a mile from the little pioneer school in Kelso Canyon where he received his grade school education. During his life he worked for most of the ranchers in the Kern River Valley, starting with William Landers of Onyx, who ran 10,000 head of cattle. Dewey, in his younger days, rode with the Lander's Chuck Wagon on the range that extended as far as Victorville.

Dewey's first love, as with his dad, was mining and a big part of his life was spent mining in the Piute Mountains that pushed up to the Southwest of his home. He knew every ridge and gully of these mountains as well as he did the back of his hand.

Dewey Collins will be sadly missed by all his friends and neighbors who often came by to visit him in his little home in Kelso Canyon.

Mystery Surrounds Death

John Monahan, 22, of Lake Isabella died last weekend after an apparent "drunken altercation," according to the Kern County Sheriff's Department. Deputies responded to a call of a possible assault with a deadly weapon at around 7:40 a.m., Sunday and found Monahan lying dead outside of the 3800 Oak Meadow residence in which he rented a room. His body was partially covered by a mattress.

There was blood on Monahan's face and head, the home's sliding glass door was broken, and the inside of the house was a shambles.

Jerry Goodwin, owner of the home, and his girlfriend Janet Koop, both of whom live at the residence, spent the night at a friend's house. They reportedly discovered the body when they returned home at around 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

Deputies say that Monahan was either thrown or fell off the home's balcony and suffered head injuries. Drunkenness and exposure are possible factors in the death, but actual cause of death is as yet undetermined, pending completion of an autopsy.

ACCIDENT

First Fatal Of Year Reported

What had at first appeared to be a relatively minor injury accident evolved into the first fatal collision of 1980 as William Oca Helton, 63, of Lake Isabella died Saturday at Kern Medical Center in Bakersfield following a traffic accident earlier that day.

Helton was riding a 1970 Honda 90 motorcycle eastbound on Alta Sierra Avenue when he was struck head-on by a pickup truck making a left turn from Claire Street to go westbound on Alta Sierra.

The pickup was driven by Douglas Lloyd Hanawalt, also of Lake Isabella. Hanawalt later told CHP officers he had cut the corner and didn't see Helton's motorcycle until after the collision. Helton refused to talk to officers at the scene.

The original reports indicated that Helton had sustained lacerations and abrasions to both arms, hands, legs and head. He died in Bakersfield apparently due to internal bleeding from injuries sustained in the collision.

ACCIDENT

One Killed

Car Rolls Over

A single-car rollover accident Saturday night killed an Onyx man and pinned his wife inside the wreckage with serious injuries. The woman remained in the car for almost 12 hours before the accident was discovered by passing youths on motorcycles.

Killed in the accident was Armand Joseph Reno, who had been driving his wife's 1974 Mercury Cougar east-bound on Highway 178 two-tenths of a mile east of South Lake Drive. His wife, Pearl C. Reno, received a broken left leg in the accident, a possible neck fracture, cuts and abrasions. She was also suffering from exposure when rescued because of the cold night weather. She has been transported to Kern Medical Center where her condition is listed as "serious."

The car left the road for an unknown reason as Reno was rounding a gentle curve. His wife said that he had apparently fallen asleep at the wheel.

CHP Officers investigating reported the odor of alcohol about his person, but it was not known whether that had impaired his ability to drive.

The car overturned down a steep embankment and came to rest 50 feet below the roadside, out of sight of traffic. The car rested there from the time of the accident, about 11 p.m. until discovered around 10:30 Sunday morning by six motorcyclists.

The youths finding the care were Wes Nelson, James Orlando, Richard Earhardt, Brent Henstra, James Spears, and Ronnie Poole.

Besides the youths, CHP Officer Jim Malouf credited Kern Valley Hospital emergency room doctor Robert P. George with stopping at the scene to help with the victims.

Malouf pointed out that this was the third fatal accident since the new year began, with the third person killed. This compares with two fatalities, two persons killed at this time last year.

A serious accident February 17 became the valley's second fatal last week with the death at a Bakersfield hospital of Ivan Lebovics, 10, of Ridgecrest. Lebovics died from head injuries sustained in the head-on crash.

The other fatality occurred in January in a collision between a truck and a small motorcycle, in Lake Isabella.
