"ICARD--John ICARD Dead--GRASS VALLEY (Nevada Co.), March 21 - Death came to aged John ICARD as he lay alone in his home on Randolph Flat yesterday. The body was brought to this city late last night and will be held pending the arrival of ICARD's daughters from San Francisco this evening, when arrangements will be made for the funeral. ICARD, a veteran of the Mexican War, had been in failing health for many months. He was a native of North Carolina, aged 86 years. He served through the Mexican War and was present at the taking of Santa Ana. He settled at Randolph Flat, near Rough and Ready, a few miles east of here, in the early '50's and followed mining until failing health compelled him to desist. He leaves two sons and three daughters." Source: The Evening Bee (Sacramento, CA), 21 March 1906, Page 6. Transcribed by Betty Loose.

"IHEMS--C. IHEMS, formerly a member of Lady Adams Company, Sacramento, and at the time of his death a member of the firm of J.H. Coghill & Co., of this city [San Francisco], committed suicide at 12 o'clock today at Pacific street wharf. He stood on the end of the wharf, and placing a pistol to his mouth, fired it off, blowing away the whole back part of his head. The body dropped overboard and was picked up by a boatman and sent to the dead-house for inquest. He had been in bad health for some time past, and has been urged by his friends to take recreation to recuperate. No cause is assigned for the fatal act, other than close application to business for the last 17 years. Latterly he had become exceedingly nervous and could not sleep at night. His mind had been very much depressed for the last 2 months, but no danger to his life at his own hands was anticipated. Today he was unusually depressed in spirits, but it was supposed to be transient." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 13 Oct 1866. Transcribed by Dee.

"INDART--ANOTHER PIONEER GONE -- Last Sunday evening, May 18, 1902, news was received from San Jose conveying the sad intelligence of the death of Juan INDART. Deceased had been in ill health for some months past and as his condition did not seem to improve at his home in Santa Anita, it was decided to remove him to San Jose, where the advantage of the best medical aid could be obtained. He was taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. J.B. GARAT, where he received all the attention that loving hands could give, but which proved of no avail...At the time of his death, Mr. INDART had reached the ripe old age of 76 years. He was a native of France and had come to California via South America in 1851. On his arrival here he engaged in mining in Calaveras county with varied success. He subsequently turned his attention to the live stock business, and with 2 partners, John ETCHEVERRY, now deceased, and J. IRIBERRY, they did a profitable business in the several mining camps of the State. The firm purchased cattle in the southern part of the State and drove them to the mines where they were sold for beef at a large profit. For several years the firm conducted a large ranch in the Kings River valley, and in 1873 transferred their business to Tres Pinos. The firm continued in existence till 1882 when by mutual consent it dissolved and the property interests were equally divided. Mr. INDART's portion being 3600 acres of the Santa Anita rancho, choice farming and grazing land...Mr. INDART was married in 1863 in San Francisco to Miss Mary ERRICA, also a native of France, and to them were born 6 children, who, with their mother, are left to mourn the loss of a dear and faithful husband and father. The children are Mrs. J.B. GARAT, of San Jose; Miss Domie and John INDART, of Santa Anita, and Peter and John Peter INDART, of Reno, Nevada...The funeral will take place to-day from the Catholic Church, where services will be held at 11 o'clock." Christian love were the polarities of her very existence. The deceased had been in poor health for some time and as disease made steady encroachments on her former robust form, her daughter prevailed on her to go to San Francisco with her, where the best medical treatment could be had. About 2 years ago the daughters' entreaties were complied with and she went to San Francisco. Her death had, for the past 2 weeks proceeding the fatal hour, been momentarily expected. She passed away at the hour named with an abiding faith in her religious belief, at the ripe old age of 71y. Mrs. INGRAM was born in Albemarle Co., VA., 11/20/1818. In 1828 she moved with her parents to Missouri, here she married John INGRAM and came across the plains to the frontier in 1852, settling on the piece of land on Mark West Creek, where Robert FORSYTH's house now stands. Subsequently they improved the land on Petaluma Ave., south of the Iron Bridge, where William JONES now lives. Her husband, who died many years ago, held many responsible positions in this county. He was Deputy Sheriff under BROCKMAN, Sonoma Counties first sheriff. He held similar positions under Samuel POTTER and E. LATAPIE. Mrs. INGRAM shared all the hardships of pioneer life. During all these years she was the same unselfish, courageous woman that marked her life up to the time that she was called away. She was a devout member of the Methodist Church South." "JACOBS--GEORGE F. JACOBS, VETERAN THEATRICAL MAN, IS DYING NEVADA CITY (Nevada Co.), July 26 - George F. JACOBS, the veteran theatrical manager of this Coast, who has had charge of theatrical affairs in this part of the State ever since 1853, is dying at his home in this city, with a few relatives by his side. JACOBS came to California direct from New York in 1849 and has never been sick a day since up to now. He remembers the celebrities of the old Bowery theater in New York and often has talked about the great actors of the day there. In his fifty-two years of managing theatricals he has seen all the great stars that visited the Coast and recalls the BOOTHs in their appearances in San Francisco, which town he was visiting from the mines at the time. Jacobs' mind has remained clear up to now and he has been actively in charge of the Nevada City theater, but he had to give up a week ago when he caught a cold. This has settled into his system and he cannot recover." Source: The Evening Bee (Sacramento, Cal.), 26 July 1905. Transcribed by Betty Loose.

"JACOBSON--BY STATE TELEGRAPH, San Francisco, Nov. 9 -- A horrible tragedy occurred in this city yesterday morning at the house of John McDONALD, No. 1218 Kearny street. A young Dane, named Laurentz JACOBSON, living in the family of Mr. McDONALD, fell in love with Miss McDONALD, an estimable girl, aged about 14 years. His attachment was not reciprocated, nor were his addresses sanctioned by the parents, and at their request he removed to another boarding place. He continued to visit the family and on Saturday evening brought a bottle of champagne, of which Mr. & Mrs. McDONALD and the children merely tasted and were afterwards taken violently ill. It afterwards transpired that JACOBSON had attempted to poison the entire family, but owing to the small quantity which was drunk they escaped death. Failing in this attempt, he returned to the house at 1 o'clock in the morning. Effecting an entrance through the corridor, he proceeded to Miss McDONALD's room, shot her through the head, and placing the pistol to his own head, blew out his brains. Miss McDONALD survived until 9 o'clock this morning and expired." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 31 Oct 1868. Transcribed by Dee Sardoc.

"JOHNSTON--A Brave Man Dies - GRASS VALLEY (Nevada Co.), November 8 - Word was received here yesterday of the death of George JOHNSTON in San Francisco. The funeral takes place to-day. Deceased was a native of Belfast, Ireland. He came to Nevada County in the early fifties and engaged in mercantile pursuits for a time. Then he spent several terms as Deputy Sheriff of Placer County, with headquarters at Auburn. Utterly fearless, cool and calculating, his name became a terror to the highwaymen and other criminals who infested the mountains at the time. He was engaged in many exciting and bloody man hunts, in one of which he had a finger shot off, but pluckily kept in the battle until the highwaymen were routed. His most noted battle was with ?Rattlesnake Dick,? and his gang, in which several were killed or wounded on both sides. Leaving the mining country, JOHNSTON engaged in the hardware business at Pomona for a time. Later he turned his attention to inventions, bringing out the famous FRUE and JOHNSTON concentrators, used wherever gold mining is carried on. He also invented other valuable mining appliances and made quite a fortune out of them. Of late years he had resided in San Francisco. "JOHNSON--YUBA CITY BOY KILLED BY CAR--While Attempting To Cross Street in San Francisco He Falls and Body Is Mangled By Wheels--MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), September 11 - Chester JOHNSON, a 13-year-old boy of Sutter County, died in San Francisco yesterday morning as the result of injuries which followed his collision with a McAllister Street car at the corner of Fourth and Market on Saturday. Richard A. HOFFMAN, the gripman of the car, was placed under arrest by the police and a charge of manslaughter hangs over him. The Coroner has taken charge of the case and an inquest will be held some time to-day, it is thought. Young JOHNSON, accompanied by his mother, went to San Francisco to spend Admission Day. Saturday afternoon while in front of 803 Market Street, the boy attempted to cross to the other side. In doing so he sought to dodge a wagon, but fell instead and as he did so a car came along and struck him, badly mangling his body. He was hurried to the Cental Emergency Hospital where he lingered in agony until yesterday morning. His distracted mother sent word of the accident to Yuba City at once and yesterday another message told of the lad's death." Source: The Evening Bee (Sacramento, Cal.), 11 Sept 1905, Page 6. "KAMP--THE SAN FRANCISCO MURDER -- About a week ago a young man in San Francisco named KAMP, was shot in the head by "Johnny DEVINE, the Chicken." A dispatch dated Thursday evening reads as follows: Coroner LETTERMAN visited the County Hospital this evening for the purpose of taking the deposition of August KAMP, who was shot by Johnny DEVINE, but found him insensible and in a dying condition. A short time afterwards KAMP expired. The deceased was a young man, and a German by birth, who had resided at Antioch. On visiting San Francisco he fell in with DEVINE, a Pacific street desperado, who borrowed $20 from him. Because KAMP insisted on the repayment of the money, DEVINE, after taking him to a lonely spot near Hunter's Point, shot him in the head and left him for dead. KAMP recovered sufficiently to describe his assassin, and after his arrest identified him. But the mere statement of the murdered man can not be admitted as testimony on the trial. His dying affidavit only is regarded as legal evidence in the case. Without this affidavit conviction will be difficult, if not impossible. It is strange that the city authorities in so clear a case of brutal murder as this would neglect until too late to take the necessary steps to secure the most vital testimony in the case." "KASEBERG--PIONEER'S LIFE ENDS SUDDENLY--James W. KASEBERG Dies At Placer County Ranch--Was in Sacramento Last Saturday and Boasted of Good Health - He Made a Large Fortune With Freight Teams, at Stock Raising and Farming--James W. KASEBERG, one of the oldest and best known citizens of the Sacramento Valley, a pioneer teamster, farmer and stock raiser, and at one time a resident of this city, died suddenly yesterday forenoon at his ranch near Roseville, Placer County, where he has resided for a great many years. Mr. KASEBERG and his wife were in Sacramento last Saturday, on their way home from a visit to San Francisco. To old friends who met him and asked him about his health he said he had never felt better in his life. He was taken suddenly ill at his home Sunday morning and a physician was called, but he only lived a few minutes. "Jimmy" KASEBERG, as deceased was widely and popularly known, laid the foundation of his large fortune - it being estimated that he was worth $500,000 or more - by running freight teams between this city and the mines in the early days. It was said that at one time he had the largest wagon freighting business out of Sacramento. When that business began to decline he turned his attention to stock raising engaging principally in the sheep and wool business. He acquired vast ranges of grazing land in Placer County and has prospered for years. Mr. KASEBERG was married twice. His first wife died several years ago. About two years ago he was married to Dr. Josephine CALLAHAN, a practicing physician, who survives him. He is also survived by four children by his first wife. They are Mrs. R.P. DOOLIN, Mrs. J.F. TYLER, Miss Winnifred KASEBERG and William KASEBERG. Mr. KASEBERG was also an uncle by marriage of Mrs. F.D. RYAN. He was 77 years of age." Source: The Evening Bee (Sacramento, Cal.), 14 August 1905, Page 3. Transcribed by Betty Loose.

"KELLEY--San Francisco, July 6, 1887- Thomas LANGDON shot Charles KELLEY in the neck in San Francisco on Tuesday night. The cause of the affray was a dispute about who had a lucrative beat as a special officer in Chinatown. Joseph KELLEY, who tried to disarm Langdon, was shot in the arm. KELLEY died this morning. LANGDON was charged with murder. KELLEY was at one time a prominent and prosperous hack owner in this city. After one of MAGUIRE's failures as a manager of the Baldwin Theatre, he was succeeded by KELLEY, who unsuccessfully conducted the establishment. He visited Sacramento with a number of theatrical combinations, and was very well known there. Today LANGDON showed extreme remorse for his act. Speaking of the affair he said: "When I met Charles last night he spoke to me, and during the conversation the matter of his brother's boat came up. I told him I thought his brother wanted the whole world, and one word followed another. Finally, he said something about giving me all I wanted, and throwing back his coat, he placed his hand in his hip pocket. I believed he was about to draw his revolver on me, and to save myself, I shot him. I swear before God I would not have shot him unless I thought he was going to shoot me. He fell to the sidewalk, and then his brother came out of the store running toward me. I fired a second shot. I know that Joe was always armed, and naturally supposing he would attempt to kill me for shooting his brother, I shot again. This is the truth of

"KELLY--Martin KELLY was the youngest of three brothers, being himself about forty three years of age. He was a native of Kings county, Ireland, as were his two elder brothers, Michael Joseph and Peter KELLY. Was though well-known contractor, who died not long since in this city, while the latter, who has until recently been engaged in the grocery business, is still a resident here, living on Fell street, near Gough. There is a widowed sister also residing in San Francisco. The father of the KELLYs was a well-to-do Irish farmer, who gave his sons something at least of a start in the world, of which all made good use. Martin KELLY, the deceased, came to America about thirty years ago, landing in New York, where he remained for a short time, but soon pushed Westward to San Francisco. Here he wisely invested what money he had in land on the outskirts of this city, from time to time increasing his investments as he obtained the money to do so. As a result he soon began to realize handsomely, and such property as now stands in his name in this city is valued at all the way from $50,000 to $75,000. He lately owned considerable real estate on Hayes and Fell streets, a few blocks beyond Van Ness avenue. Mr. KELLY took considerable interest in local politics and served four years in the Legislature as Senator from this city. For several years past he has acceptably filled the position of Assistant Chief Wharfinger under Captain CORCORAN. Mr. KELLY was never married, but has always shown himself devoted to the children of his brothers and sisters. He has several grandnephews attending school at St. Mary's, Oakland, whose expenses he has been paying, to a great degree, at least, and his fatal journey across the bay yesterday was made chiefly to pay them a visit. Genial in temperament and invariably courteous, he stood high in the esteem of everyone, whether relatives or merely acquaintances." Source: San Francisco Examiner, 31 May 1890, p. 2. "KERRIGAN--TWO MURDERS. - On Wednesday evening last two horrible murders were perpetrated in San Francisco. At about six o'clock, a dispute occurred between Patrick DONNELLY, and Daniel KEELEY, on First street, between Market and Stevenson, in which DONNELLY stabbed KEELEY with a large carving knife, inflicting seven or eight wounds upon his body and head, of which he has since died. About ten o'clock, in a room attached to a coffee stand on the corner of Pacific and Drumm streets, while the wife of Michael KERRIGAN, a steamboatman, was taking a cup of coffee, alone in the room, her husband rushed in with a knife in his hand, and jerking her head back, at one cut severed the carotid artery, causing death in a few moments." "KIDDER--DEATH of CHARLES A. KIDDER -- The Vallejo 'Independent' contains the following concerning the late absconding clerk of Solano county: On last Wednesday a dispatch was received in this city, from Watsonville, announcing the fact that Chas. A. KIDDER was there and in a dying condition. Another telegram, received on Thursday, stated that he had died early that morning. Deceased was an old resident of this city [Vallejo], having lived here about 10 years, and was well known throughout Solano county. He at one time held a clerkship on the Navy Yard, and while occupying that position his actions were at times unaccountably strange. He would go and come from the yard for several weeks at a time without ever speaking to any one, unless in answer to a direct question. He was appointed afterwards City Clerk, and in that capacity often acted very strange. In 1871 he was elected County Clerk, which position he occupied but a few months when he suddenly disappeared, no one knew where. Some thought he had been foully dealt with, others that he had gone East, but the majority were nonplussed. Reports prevailed from time to time that he had been seen in San Francisco, yet these reports were very hard to believe, but eventually proved to be true. Finally, Mr. SNOW met him in the southern part of California, when KIDDER asserted that he would never return to Solano county. A week had scarcely elapsed before KIDDER made his appearance in Vallejo, as our readers are already aware. After remaining here one day only, he left for San Francisco, whence he proceeded to Watsonville, where he died on Thursday morning. It is reported that Mrs. KIDDER was with him in his last moments. The Masonic fraternity of which he was a member will [illeg]. In view of his former history, it seems quite probable that he was not in his right mind and that to this fact is to be attributed his sudden disappearance without cause and strange conduct before and after." "KINDERMANN--SUICIDE -- The community was shocked with the news of another suicide about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The unfortunate was Mrs. Emily KINDERMANN, wife of Gustavus KINDERMANN. She leaves 3 little children, the eldest of whom is 5 years of age and cannot realize the calamity that has befallen them. The husband of the unfortunate woman was formerly employed at the Pacific Tannery in this city and about 3 weeks ago went to San Francisco where he has remained to the present time. Mr. Edward ALISKY, with whom the deceased has been boarding at the corner of Main and American streets, furnished us a statement which is about as follows: The deceased for the past few months has been subject to fits of mental derangement and frequently neglected duties to her family. After her husband left for San Francisco to work at his trade in the Laguna Tannery, she became more insane; she came to the conclusion that her husband was dead and pronounced a letter which he had written her a forgery. She frequently has mentioned an intention to commit suicide. Yesterday afternoon she was visited by a physician who prescribed for her. A bath was recommended, and accordingly she went to her room for that purpose, but within a half an hour afterward the family of Mr. ALISKY was horrified to learn that the deceased was hanging in a wood shed upon an adjoining lot. The deceased evidently stood upon a chair and adjusted a clothes-line around her neck and then made it fast above, and in a moment more committed the lamentable deed. When found she was not entirely lifeless and an effort was made to restore her, but proved unavailing. Her body was taken to the Coroner's office where an inquest will

"KINDERMANN--CORONER'S INQUEST -- Last Saturday evening Coroner BOND summoned a jury and held 2 inquests -- one over the body of Mrs. [illeg] KINDERMANN, whose death by suicide has already been made public; and the other over the body of the Mexican who died suddenly on Friday night. The gentlemen summoned and sworn as jurors were John T. OLDHAM, E.R. ROBERTS, T.W. BIRCH, G.W. DOW and John GRATTAN. In the case of Mrs. KINDERMANN, the testimony elicited was as follows: Edward ALISKY, sworn -- I have known the deceased for a year past, since she came from the East. Her name is Emma KINDERMANN, aged 29 years, and married; her husband is working at the Laguna Tannery, San Francisco; she has 4 children -- 1 in Germany and 3 here. She boarded at my house, corner of Main and American streets; her rooms were next door; she and her husband lived very unhappily together. The doctors and Judge GREENE came yesterday by request of her friends to examine whether or not she was insane; they found her insane and issued a commitment; Dr. EICHLER has it now; she pleaded to be left with her children; they told her if she would behave herself and take good care of her children she might remain a few days; about half-past 1 o'clock, after they left, my wife went to look for Mrs. KINDERMANN and could not find her in the house; she inquired of the children where their mother was, and they pointed to the wood-house or chicken-house; she went there and found Mrs. KINDERMANN suspended by the neck to a rafter, with a chair near her, within 2 ½ or 3 feet; my wife gave the alarm; I went and cut deceased down; I found she was dead; gave her stimulants, etc., and tried to revive her. The name of her husband is Gustavus KINDERMANN. Mrs. ALISKY was called and sworn and the lady corroborated her husband's testimony. Dr. EICHLER, sworn -- I knew the deceased; Dr. STOCKTON and myself examined her yesterday (Friday), Sept. 6, 1872, for the purpose of committing her to the Insane Asylum. We prepared a commitment to send her immediately to the Asylum, but she begged so hard not to be taken from her children and promised to take care of them, that I gave her permission to stay a day or 2, and see how she would do. After that, we left; that was the last time I saw her alive. THE VERDICT -- The jury rendered the following verdict: We, the jury, find the name of the deceased to be Emma KINDERMANN, aged about 29 years, a native of Germany, and that she came to her death on the 6th day of September, A.D. 1872, by suicide, or hanging herself by the neck in a fit of insanity, in an outhouse in the rear of Edward ALISKY's residence, corner of American and Main streets, city of Stockton." came to the United States when he was a young man. He resided in New York, City for a time, and when news of the discovery of gold in California reached the East, he decided to come to the land of promise. He arrived in this State in the early 1850's and six months later followed his young bride. He embarked in the grocery business and won the confidence by his sterling qualities and integrity. He opened a store on the southwest corner of Pine and Montgomery streets, where the Russ house now stands. He was partner in the wholesale liquor firm of KLOPPENBURG and BRETVIDEL and enjoyed the trust of the entire commercial community. In 1868, KLOPPENBURG was elected City and County Treasurer and won a second term by a large majority. He was a candidate for the third term, but the Democratic party, to which he belonged, suffered defeat on that occasion. In the 1870's he embarked in a lead smelting enterprise, and with his associates, erected a costly plant near Six mile house. He invested a large sum of money in the concern, but the venture proved a failure and KLOPPENBURG was a heavy loser. He refused to accept the offer of compromise from his creditors and insisted on paying his debts in full. He then started a cigar box business on Brannan Street and again suffered a heavy loss by fire. For the last fifteen years, he was involved in various mercantile enterprises and was highly respected. He is survived by his widow (Lucy), and one child, the wife of Phillipp KIEFER, a wholesale liquor dealer. Three grandsons of the deceased, Otto C, Gustave H and Harry N KIEFER are well known in the mercantile world. "KOON--CHINESE FUNERAL ? At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a large concourse of Chinese, male and female, collected together at the house of YON KOON, Hunter street, to witness the funeral ceremonies performed in respect to the deceased doctor. Mr. Alfred N. BLAKE conducted the funeral. About 20 minutes past 3 o'clock the remains, in a mahogany coffin, were carried out and deposited in the hearse, when the procession began to move to the steamer on which the body was taken to San Francisco. 2 carriages containing female mourners closely followed the hearse, and about 150 males followed on foot, each assuming, for the time being, a peculiarly downcast and melancholy phase of countenance. The remains being deposited on the larboard guard of the Cornelia, the chief mourner, a woman, was conducted from a carriage by 5 of her own sex to the boat. This occurrence attracted more notice from the crowd than any other thing connected with the funeral. The woman was dressed in white, and her head enveloped so completely in a capacious hood that her face could not be seen; and the stooping posture of her body while trying to walk brought her nose within a few inches of the ground. This ended the mummery, and shortly the steamer left and so did the crowd. This is the last of "YON KOON." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 15 June 1864. Transcribed by Dee Sardoch.

"KOON--LYING in STATE ? More than 100 persons visited the medical office of YON KOON yesterday, to see the body lying in state and satisfy the cravings of curiosity by observing the pagan humbuggery of the living heathens that were hired to do the mourning. At the head of the body sat a woman with a capacious hood of white cotton sheeting on her head, keeping the flies off, while 4 others were appealing to "Josh" in a jargon only intelligible to themselves, but surely not to the heathen deity of their imagination. Near the body lay a dead hen and about a pint of nuts, chop-sticks and scraps of papers and trinkets of every imaginary shape and color, and any amount of other jimcrackery, gathered only by heathens in the chamber of death. Considerable tallow and oil were wasted in shedding light on the subject; yet after all it appeared dark and stupid to outsiders. But it is their way of doing such things, and they seem to spare no pains and efforts to accomplish enough. The body will be sent to San Francisco on the steamer this afternoon, thence to China." "KORBE--DEATH OF PIONEER BOATMAN--John KORBE, long and favorably known by all masters and others having business among shipping, died at 4 o'clock yesterday morning (8/1/1874). No man on the city front was more noted than John for his integrity and strict adherence to the wishes of his employees. He arrived in this city in 1849 and started almost immediately in boating, in which business he continued up until the time of his death, over twenty four years. Previous to his arrival here, he was a boatman in New York, where he commenced in 1846. There have been more expressions of sorrow by stevedores and all whom he was connected in business, than any other who was in that line. He leaves a large family to mourn for an affectionate father." "LANNIGAN--On Sunday afternoon, a shooting affray occurred near the corner of Pacific and Sansome streets, during which a boot-black, named Thomas LANNIGAN, but better known as "Dublin Jack", was shot by sheriff, Alexander GREEN, and in a few moments, died from wounds received. A number of different versions of the affray are afloat, and it is impossible to obtain a correct statement until the matter is made subject of a judicial investigation. Below we gave narration of the case as requested by our Reporter: it appears that on the day alluded to Mrs. GREEN, who resides on the corner of Broadway and Montgomery streets, being unwell, sent her little girl, seven years of age, to a restaurant on Sansome Street, near Pacific, to get some mutton broth, and on her returned she passed by the boot-black stand kept by "Dublin". It is alleged that as she passed by, "Dublin" beckoned her, but she refused to go to him, whereupon he took a piece of cranberry pie he was eating and threw it at her. It struck her full in the face and bespattered her all over. She ran home crying and informed her parents, and Mr. Green immediately set out to see "Dublin" When they met, words passed and a fight ensued, during which the deceased was knocked down. He picked himself up, ran to his stand, took a penknife, the large blade of which was open and rushed toward Mr. GREEN, who warned him that he was an officer, and would arrest him if he made an advance. Despite the warning, he advanced on the Deputy with the knife. Mr. GREEN put up his right arm for protection and received a cut on the hand. At that moment, a man who is a friend of "Dublin" interfered, and just then Mr. GREEN was knocked down, but before he fell, he received two stabs in the left buttock. The wounded man, who lying on his back, finding himself overpowered, and thinking he had been mortally wounded, drew a small Sharp and Allen pistol and presented it at his assailant's breast and fired. He took four shots, all of which took effect, one in the mouth ranging upward, one over the nipple and the others in the middle of the breast. He expired in a few moments. Officer LANEDON took GREEN to City Prison, where his wounds were dressed. Yesterday he was taken to County Jail to await the result of the coroners inquest. The body of LANNIGAN was removed to Mullins dead-house where a post mortem exam will be held. Deceased was a native of Ireland, about 40 years of age." Source: San Francisco Call, 14 July 1868. He died on the evening of Oct. 27th, at his residence in San Francisco, after an illness of about 1 week. He came to this country in 1832, 26 years ago, and has occupied several positions of importance. Among others, he was at an early period United States Consul, also, United States Naval Store Keeper, at Monterey, and assisted in forming our State Constitution, of which he was one of the signers. In 1833, he married the 1st American lady that ever came to California. The Sacramento 'Union' says they were married on board of a vessel under the American flag by Capt. C. JONES, the U.S. Consul at the Sandwich Islands. The padres of the Missions refused to join them in wedlock for the reason that they were Protestants. "LATTA--CONVICTED--Ezekiel BULLOCK has been convicted of murder in the 2nd degree, for the killing of Thomas LATTA, in Sacramento, on the 9th of June last. The 'Bee' says that during the entire trial of BULLOCK, his wife has been by his side watching with great anxiety each phase of the case, often turning upon him a pair of sorrowful eyes and a pale, care-worn countenance. As he was leaving the court room on the day of his conviction, she forgot, for a moment, everything else but her affection for the once happy husband of her heart, and falling upon his neck, sobbed in the most heart-breaking manner, until forcibly removed. During the night session, BULLOCK held in his arms a little curly-headed child about 4 years old. The jury in the case of RITCHIE, for the killing of CORBETT, a shot time since, in San Francisco, returned a verdict of murder in the 2nd degree. The penalty affixed by the law to the crime of murder in the 2nd degree is imprisonment in the State Prison for a term not less than 10 years, but extending during life, at the discretion of the Court." "LAWSON--MISS LAWSON'S DYING STATEMENT--It will be remembered that on the day of the post-mortem examination of Miss LAWSON, in San Francisco, the Coroner ordered a jury to be summoned in order to insure himself against censure in the event of the circumstances of the case receiving publicity. It has now been discovered that the majority of the thirteen jurors are mythical personages. The Examiner publishes the girl's dying statement, signed in the presence of Dr. WARD, which reads: SAN FRANCISCO, September 3, 1886 -- 'I make this statement under the belief that I cannot live, and I solemnly say that George OSBOURNE, of the Alcazar Theater, forcibly had sexual connection with me against my will and by compulsion. The violation occurred in the Alcazar Theater, in this city, the second week of July. On Wednesday, the 1st day of September, 1886, I went alone to the office of Dr. JOSSCLYN, of Sutter street, above Kearney.' "LAY--HORRIBLE DEATH -- Thomas LAY, who was recently employed at Copperopolis, and was widely known in some parts of this county, met with a most horrible death in San Francisco on Sunday morning last, about 2 o'clock. It appears that deceased had been stopping with a brother in that city for some days, and the evening before his death had been drinking freely, from the effects of which he fell or was induced to lie down upon the track of the San Jose Railroad, on Brannan street, between 4th & 5th. The 'Alta' says that at the hour named above, the freight train was backing into town, when it was discovered that there was something under the brake boxes, and the train was stopped. The object proved to be the body of a man, crushed into a shapeless and unrecognizable mass -- an object terrible to look upon, and altogether indescribable. So terribly disfigured was the body, that by the clothing only was its identity discovered. Deceased was about 48 years of age." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 17 Oct 1866. "LAZZELLE--SUICIDE of a COURTESAN -- Sacramento 'Register'--A young courtesan named Lizzie LAZZELLE, committed suicide Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock by taking laudanum. It appears that she had been living with a man for the past 2 years, and had become very much attached to him, but for some time past he has been rather remiss in his attentions, and finally deserted her entirely. Failing to win him back it weighed heavily upon her mind, and she determined to end her sorrows effectually by ending her existence. On Sunday afternoon she procured a bottle of laudanum containing about 3 ounces and swallowed about half of it. She has been living for some time past in the house kept by Mary TURNBULL, on Third st., between J and K sts. A short time after she had taken the dose she informed one of the women in the house of the fact, and the latter hastened to procure medical assistance. Drs. LOGAN and MORSE were called in as soon as possible and rendered every assistance to save the poor girl's life, but the poison had well nigh done its fatal work. She lingered until yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, when she expired. This is the same girl about whom so much was said in the newspapers about 2 years since. Her parents then resided in San Francisco, where she became enamored of a circus actor, and ran away with him. After considerable search, she was found in San Jose, where the company were performing, and she was returned to her parents. Subsequently she left them again and came to this city [Sacramento], where she gave birth of a child. She was afterwards taken home again, but remained only a short time, when she returned to this city, and has been living in the house aforesaid for purposes of prostitution. She was very small, of good figure, and a mild, pleasing face, and looked really younger than she was. It is a very sad history of a brief career. The verdict of the Coroner's Jury was voluntary suicide, in accordance with the above facts." Source: Weekly Stockton Democrat, 1 May 1859. Transcribed by Dee.

"LEESE--**Death of Jacob P. LEESE --Jacob P. LEESE, one of the oldest American residents of the state, and for many years a prominent actor in public affairs, died in San Francisco last Monday, at the advanced aged of 82 years, 6 months and 19 days. A portion of his life was spent in Monterey county, and local interest attaches to him from the fact that at one time he owned the SAUSAL ranch, upon which the principal part of Salinas now stands. He was a native of Ohio, but while on a business trip down the Mississippi, he fell in at Memphis with a party organized for hunting and trapping. In what is now New Mexico, he joined a party for California, arriving in the state, December 24, 1833. In 1837 he married Miss Rosalie VALLEJO, sister of M.G. VALLEJO. Seven children survive the union: Jacob R. LEESE, postmaster at Monterey, David LEESE, farmer on San Bernabe ranch, Luis LEESE who is now in Mexico, Mrs. A. ABREGO, Mrs. Rosana KELLARD and the Misses Rosalie and Pomposa LEESE. Mr. LEESE erected the first house built in San Francisco. He accumulated several fortunes, but, like his brother-in-law, General VALLEJO, was generous to a fault. He was a magnificent specimen of manhood

"LEESE--Died, in this city, at half-past 7 o'clock on the morning of the 22d September, ROSALIA DOMETILDE LEESE, at the house of her father, Mr. J. P. LEESE, in the midst of her family and surrounded by affectionate friends, her spirit passed quietly and solemnly from time to eternity! Roselia Dometilde was born at Yerba Buena on the 15th of April, 1838. She was perhaps the first human being who 'came into this breathing world' on the spot where now stands the proud city of San Francisco. Death is always a solemn messenger, but the chamber which he visits is dreadfully so when that 'blind foe' of all that is human enters the domestic circle and seizes on one of its members, clothed in guileless beauty, whose innocence, virtue and worth claim not only the sacred and tender care of fond parents, but the care of all who knew her. The deep sorrow of this mourning family finds a responsive feeling in the hearts of the whole community, who, too, sorrow for the loss of this fair and gentle child, who but but [sic] a few brief days ago rejoiced the goal of earth--the starting place from which God hath called her joyful spirit, to share its heritage in a purer and brighter world than this. "LEESE--Death of Mrs. Jacob P. LEESE -- Mrs. Rosalia LEESE, wife of Jacob P. LEESE, died at her home in Monterey on Wednesday of last week, aged 78 years. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon and was attended by a large concourse of people. Mrs. LEESE was married to Jacob P. LEESE, then a merchant in Yerba Buena (San Francisco), on April 7, 1837, and on April 15th, 1838, a daughter was born to them, Rosalia, since deceased, who was the first child born in Yerba Buena. Eight children were born to them, 7 of whom are now living, including J.R. LEESE, postmaster at Monterey, and David LEESE, of Kings City. A number of years ago a separation was agreed to between Mr. & Mrs. LESSE, and since then she has lived in the old home at Monterey with her children, while LEESE drifted away to South America and other countries, finally returning about 3 years ago and now residing in San Francisco. "LEIDESDORFF--OBITUARY. Died, at his own residence, in this place, at one o'clock, A. M., on the 18th inst., after an illness of seven days, of a fever, WILLIAM A. LEIDESDORFF, ESQ. late U. S. Vice Consul for this port. Having received the consolations of the Catholic religion during his illness, he was buried yesterday, at 3 o'clock, after the appropriate ceremonies, in the Mission Church of Dolores, near San Francisco. One of the largest and most respectable assemblages ever witnessed in this place, followed the deceased from his late residence to the place of interment, and every thing was done on the part of the community to evince its deep feeling for the loss it has sustained. All places of business and public entertainment were closed, the flags of the garrison and the shipping were flying at half mast; and minute guns were discharged from the barracks and the shipping as the procession moved from town. "It is not our intention to comment upon the historical merits of the deceased; a few brief remarks for the aformation of strangers will suffice. Captain LEIDESDORFF was of Danish parentage, but was a native of West Indies, and is supposed to have been about thirty six years of age at the time of his death. He was formerly well known as a merchant captain in the ports of New Orleans and New York, but for the alst seven years he has been in business on this coast where he has gained a high character for integrity, enterprize [sic], and activity. In private life he was social, liberal, and hospitable to an eminent degree, and in his attachments he was warm, cordial and confiding, even tot a fault. As a merchant and a citizen, he was generous, enterprizing [sic] and public spirited, and his name intimately identified with the growth and prosperity of San Francisco. It is no injustice to the living, or demeaning praise for the dead, to say that the town has lost its most valuable resident, and the feeling evinced by the community is an involuntary tribute to his merits as a man and citizen. His energy of character and business enterprizes [sic] have so blended his history with that of San Francisco, that all classes deplore his death as a great public calamity. While many mourn for his various social virtues, in Captain LEIDESDORFF the laboring classes of the community and the poor have lost a munificent patron and a generous friend. "LENHART--'DISMISSED BY DEATH - End of an Unfortunate Charge against J.M. LENHART.' The name of J.M. LENHART was called three times yesterday morning in Department 3 of the Police Court. LENHART was arrested in September on a charge of securing $250 from A.D. Carvill on a note transaction. His friends claimed that he should have been proceeded against by civil action. He was examined on the charges and Judge Joschimsen had set yesterday morning as the time for rendering a decision. "Your Honor," said Prosecuting Attorney Stevens, "the accused is not in the land of the living. He died last night at his home, surrounded by his family." "Well," said the Judge, "that ends all. In his lifetime LENHART was well known to me as an honorable citizen. Mr. Clerk, strike the case from the calendar." LENHART was aged 50 years, lived at 1624 Howard street and was a well-known citizen. The charge was a great blow to him and he was compelled to take morphine to induce sleep. It is supposed that the use of the drug hastened his death. "LEROY--San Francisco, January 16--Indications on the scene soon to be enacted at County jail today in the execution of Wright LEROY were early apparent. Both sides of the street were lined with people at 10 o'clock. At noon, neither pedestrian nor vehicle could pass the human barrier which filled Broadway street, between Kearney and Montgomery, where the jail is located. Some 600 crowded into the yard. At 12:15, Jerry DRISCOLL, one of the under sherriffs, entered the murders cell, in which were already Father CONNOLLY and Deputy Sherriff Marion WILSON. DRISCOLL read the death warrant, to which LEROY listened attentively, without making remarks. Sherriff HOPKINS entered while the death warrant was being read. The word was given for :silence and hats off". The cell door opened and the doomed man, held up by the arm of Father CONNOLLY emerged. LEROY walked tottering up the few steps leading to the drop. Prayer was said by Father CONNOLLY and LEROY was stationed at his last standing place on earth. He trembled visably and his religious advisor reached out his arm to steady him. Straps were placed on his arms and legs and the rope adjusted. A final pull was given to the noose and the death signal was given. Death ensued in 11 minutes. Wright LEROY murdered Nicholas SKERRETT, a wealthy miser, in August, 1883. He was an exconvict wo received a discharge from prison a few months previous to the murder. He resided, formerly, in Oakland, where he was a very smart and shrewd attorney, but was detected in forging a number of deds to town lots and convicted to San Quentin for seven years." "LOGAN--THE SAN FRANCISCO TRAGEDY -- The catastrophe at Minna and New Montgomery streets, San Francisco, was more destructive of life and limb than was at first reputed. 4 persons were crushed to death and several others were badly injured, 1 or 2 of whom may not recover. There seems to be but little doubt that the disaster was the result of culpable mismanagement as the unsafe condition of the walls of the new building had been discussed the evening before they fell. The 'Chronicle' of Thursday says: The killed are Johanna McDONALD, aged 37 years; Mary LOGAN, aged 35; Peter McDONALD, aged 9 months; and Lizzie SHERRY, aged 11 years. The last named is a daughter of Mrs. McDONALD by her 1st husband. Johnny SHERRY who was spoken of as having been injured, was in a doubtful condition yesterday, he having been more seriously injured than was at first supposed. Coroner LETTERMAN took charge of the remains of the killed, and they were conveyed to the morgue and there laid out. 3 tables were placed side by side, on one of which Mrs. McDONALD was placed, on the next lay her dead children, and further on were the remains of Mrs. LOGAN. Soon after 10 o'clock in the morning a crowd of persons thronged to the Morgue with that morbid desire which is a part and parcel of human nature -- a desire to look upon the faces of those who have been suddenly called to that unknown country from whose bourne no tidings are received, or no traveler returns. The Coroner's Clerk, Mr. O'BRIEN, then opened the doors of the Morgue and from that time a continual crowd poured in until evening, when it was found necessary to refuse admittance to any more. It is estimated that over 5,000 persons, men, women and children, visited the room in which the bodies lay." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 25 Feb 1871. Transcribed by Dee.
