Mojave Youth Dies After Auto Flips

CALIFORNIA NEWS SERVICE
MOJAVE.—Pedro Fuentes, 18, 15830 K Street, Mojave, died in a Tehachapi hospital at 5:10 a.m. yesterday morning from injuries suffered when he was ejected from an out-of-control car and the auto rolled on top of him Friday night.

The Mojave area California Highway Patrol, which is still investigating the accident, said Fuentes was sitting in the right front seat of a car driven by Mitchell Paul Kellard, 19, Star Route 2, Cameron Canyon Road, Mojave, when the car, southbound on Cameron Canyon Road, six-tenths of a mile north of Tehachapi Willow Spring Road, went out of control on a curve. The car rolled over an undetermined number of times, coming to rest on its top five feet from the roadway.

Fuentes was the only one of the four occupants thrown from the car. Kellard and Mark Odean Kemme, 19 of South Dakota, were treated and released from Tehachapi, while another passenger, Edward Eugene Vassar, 21, 220 Valley Boulevard, Tehachapi, was not injured.

Arrangements for Fuentes services are being handled by Stickel Mortuary, Mojave.

KERNVILLE — Private services were held recently in the United Community Methodist Church in Kernville for Mrs. Barbara Hammons, 63, former resident of Bakersfield and a pioneer in the field of medical technology. Mrs. Hammons died Oct. 6 in the Kernville home of her only brother, John Gobler. The Rev. William Vanfossen officiated at the service, limited to members of the immediate family. Interment was in the Kern River Valley District Cemetery.

Mrs. Hammons was born in Thief River Falls, Minn. She received a degree in education and science from the University of Minnesota in 1924 at the age of 17. She taught one year in Harris, Min. In 1925, she came to Bakersfield to continue studies and to reside with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kratka Sr. She was employed by the Lane Laboratories, which she eventually purchased and renamed Medical Laboratories, Inc.

Mrs. Hammons was one of 47 medical technologists in the nation and the only one in her vocation in the Bakersfield area many years. In 1942 she was married to Dr. John Headen Inman, a prominent Bakersfield physician. Dr. Inman died in 1945 and Mrs. Hammons continued to direct the Medical Laboratories. In 1953 Mrs. Hammons married Harold H. Hammons, and in 1956 she retired from Medical Laboratories.

She continued to give services to several institutions, including the Tri-Counties Hospital in Springville, where she worked with tubercular patients. The Hammonses moved to Laguna Beach in 1958, and Mrs. Hammons managed a doctor's group laboratory in Santa Ana. Her full retirement came in 1960 when the Hammonses settled in Morro Bay.

In 1964, after the death of her husband, Mrs. Hammons returned to her profession as a bioanalyst for the Health Center at Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo. She worked there until August, 1969, when she became ill.

Mrs. Hammons was past president of the Kern County Medical Society Auxiliary, a counsellor for the California State Medical Society Auxiliary and a member of the Medical Technicians Society and of the Cotillion Dance Club. Before death, she established the Barbara Hammons Scholarship Fund at Cal Poly to benefit students in the science field. The family has requested gifts be assigned to the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Hammons, in addition to her brother, is survived by two nephews, Eric and Fritz Gobler, both of Kernville; two nieces, Barbara Martin and Gretchen Hayes; uncle, Frank H. Kratka Sr. of Bakersfield, and a cousin, Don McGruder of Bakersfield. Arrangements were handled by Valley Mortuary.

Death in Canal Attributed to Heart Attack

Nov 18 1970
Harold Curtis Kurtz, 60, of Wasco, whose body was found in four feet of water in the Calloway Canal near Wasco Monday morning, died as the result of a heart attack and not from injuries suffered when his pickup plunged into the canal, according to the results of an autopsy reported by the coroner's office.

Kurtz drove his pickup into the canal before dawn Monday, the California Highway Patrol earlier reported, and his body was pulled from the water about 9 a.m. that day.

The investigators found the left door of his pickup was open, indicating he had stepped into the canal from that side, but his body was discovered on the right side of the vehicle.

The victim apparently was not aware the private road he was driving down dead-ended into the canal, the CHP said.
