

Gustine Cemetery Records

These pictures are of a small forlorn cemetery in Gustine, Merced County, California. This cemetery is found on Cottonwood Road. It is farmland, and a farm is across the street from it. This small plot is surrounded by a chain link fence, has a very large single tree in it, and is totally uncared for, with broken rough ground, weeds, etc.

I was there looking for my grandfather's family. I did not find him; however, I took several pictures of the family stones, and plots of others. One set of stones are missing, and you can tell where they should be.

I thought someone might like to know about this and perhaps these names will help.
