

San Diego County Obituaries

Escondido Times, March 15, 1888

The late Dr. William Fletcher Ackerman, who departed this life on Monday evening, the 12th inst., was born at Mount Vernon, West Chester County, New York, on Nov. 13, 1858. He was an only child. At the age of fifteen he was called upon to mourn the loss of his indulgent father. When seventeen years of age he entered the University of New York, where he distinguished himself as an active and accurate scholar, and at the close of the full course in 1879 graduated with high honors, receiving the degree master of arts. Throughout the course he earned the distinction of honor-man and at the graduating ceremonies delivered the Greek salutatory. He immediately entered Bellevue Medical College and completed the full course of three years, during the whole time being upon the books as an honorable member. Here he developed more than ordinary ability and talent, and above all displayed a natural aptitude for the profession he had chosen. At the close of his course he graduated with distinction and obtained the degree doctor of medicine, after which he was accorded a position in Bellevue Hospital, first as ambulance and then as regular physician and surgeon, where he remained for two years. He then practiced medicine for about two years in New York City, or until he came to Escondido.

During his entire experience he was remarkably successful both as a physician and surgeon, and won the confidence of his patients and the esteem and approval of his fellow practitioners, by whom he was universally pronounced a practitioner of far above the ordinary ability and skill, and much was expected of his career in life. In complicated and serious cases which he had treated and advised upon, when examined in San Francisco by the most distinguished doctors, his treatment and diagnosis were approved and commended in the highest terms.

On December 27th last he was joined in matrimony with an estimable lady, Miss Mattie A. Bucklaod, of Cazenovia, N.Y., who now, with his aged mother, sorely mourns his early death. His fatal illness, which was very brief, being less than a week, was edema of the lungs, complicated with congestion of the brain. The mortal remains, which were buried with Pythian honors, were deposited in the Escondido cemetery.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CONOVER

Friends Pay the Last Tribute to the One They Loved

The funeral of Mrs. W. F. Conover was held yesterday morning at the First Congregational church, and was attended by a large company of friends of the departed teacher and her husband. The Attendance, in fact, was as large as the church could comfortably accommodate, indicating the high esteem in which the deceased had been held by all who knew her.

The auditorium was adorned with the choicest flowers, arranged by loving hands to signify as much of hope in future life as of present sorrow. Violets, roses, smilax, palms and ivy were used. Floral offerings were numerous and of varied design, conveying individual tributes of esteem. Prominent among these was a wreath of roses and ivy, and a pillow of pure white roses, offered by the teachers of the public schools.

The service, brief but impressive, was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Norton. He spoke from Revelations, 21. The Choir, led by Mrs. Annie B. Slone, rendered appropriate music, including a solo by Mrs. Slone, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The Casket containing the body of Mrs. Conover was white, and was heaped with flowers. The pallbearers were: Prof. Ellwood P. Cubberley, city superintendent of schools; Prof. F. P. Davidson, principal of the high school; Principal J. H. Freeman of Sherman Heights; Harry Halliday professor of mathematics; R. B. Bowles and Mr. Phillips. The services at Mt. Hope were simple, but profoundly impressive.

Col. Cave J. Coutts of Guajome, in this county, died at the Horton House Shortly before twelve o'clock last night. Col. Coutts had long suffered from aneurism of the aorta and only recently visited San Francisco for medical counsel there. On his return to the city, some two weeks ago, he was attacked with a violent paroxysm of the disease and has been lying at the point of death ever since. Col. Coutts came to California as an officer of dragoons in 1849. He had charge of the military party which conducted the survey of the boundary line between California and Mexico. Resigning from the army he made his home in this county, where he has continuously resided since 1849. He married more than twenty years ago Theodora, a daughter of Don Juan Bandini, a lady whose nobility of character and Christian graces are known throughout this section of the State. This devoted wife and eight children now mourn the loss of a kind husband and indulgent father.

Col. Coutts was a native of Tennessee. He was a graduate of West Point Military Academy and served through the war with Mexico.

DEATH OF YSIDORA B. DE COUTS - She Had Lived in this County All Her Life

Mrs. Ysidora Bandini de Coutts, one of the best known residents of San Diego county, died yesterday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. A.B. de Baker, in Los Angeles, after a lingering illness, the cause of death being diabetes. Mr. Newell was a pioneer of Gilpin county, coming here in 1872 and engaging in the lumber business. He served as alderman and mayor in Central City several terms in the early days. In 1884 he was elected representative, and 1886 state senator. During the administration of Benjamin Harrison he was appointed by him receiver for the United States land office, then located in this city, which position he held until the offices were moved to Denver.
