in San Francisco on Sunday by drowning. Upon the Coroner's inquest, the wife of deceased made the following statement: "I know the deceased; he was my husband; his name was George ADOLPH, a native of France, aged 32 years; we were married about 1 year ago in New Orleans, and came to California about 3 months ago; were in a boarding-house the 1st 4 weeks; we then went to Crescent City; then came back to San Francisco; he went to work at his trade as machinist, and I went over to San Ramon Valley, to work for Wolff, Hoffman & Co. About 3 weeks ago I had a letter from him, saying he missed me very much, and I must come back. I wrote to him that when my month was up I would come back, and when it was up, I left and arrived here yesterday; and until then, knew nothing of his death. A letter, of which the Coroner has a copy, I found in our trunk; he was always sorry that he came to California. He did not want me to hire out; he spent all his money in getting here, and we were obliged to do as we did. We had a good home in New Orleans; and I think poverty has driven him to this act. We never have had any difficulty nor has there been any jealousy; always lived happy. I have been willing to do anything to get along well. The money spoken of in the letter, Mrs. Caroline CREAMER had to keep for him. He was boarding at her house, and they were from the same place in France. My husband was foreman in a shop in New Orleans." Source: Stockton Daily Argus, 1 July 1857. Transcribed by Dee.

"AUDEOUD--Ukiah, June 7 - A. AUDEOUD, a San Francisco restaurant man, who came here last week to visit friends, met a violent death on Robinson creek while fishing Saturday. He engaged a taricab to take him to the mouth of the stream, and was last seen by the driver going up the creek, carrying a pack and a rifle. Not returning when he agreed, search was made and his body discovered. One had and the left leg had been blown off, but, notwithstanding this, the victim was found to have crawled fifty feet from where the injury took place toward the creek. In the pockets of the dead man were found a number of dynamite caps. It is believed some of the caps exploded. A string wound tightly above the severed hand, twisted into a suture by a stick, and another string wound above the wound in the shattered leg told mutely of an effort to stem the flow of blood." "ARAYA--PATHETIC INCIDENT -- (Special Correspondence) -- SAN FRANCISCO, December 13, 1906 -- Mr. and Mrs. Adolph ARAYA, who formerly lived at South Jackson, met with a sad bereavement in the loss of their only son, Raymond Whitney, who died at the Children's Hospital in San Francisco on December 5th, aged 5 years, 1 month and 8 days. He was sick but about two weeks and taken December 1st to the hospital, where he rapidly grew worse, losing consciousness on the 4th, and never recovered. Those who read these lines and have lost dear ones know how hard it is to watch the fleeting breath growing fainter until the last breath is drawn, and loving hands close the eyes and fold the little hands. But think what it must be to the poor parents, refugees now living in a camp, trying to bear with patience the weary waiting for news from the sick one. Midnight draws near; all is still at camp. But hark! There is a knock at the door. What is it? "Is this where Raymond ARAYA's folks live?" asked the policeman standing there. "Yes." "He is dying," is the sad message he comes to bring. It is late; no cars are running; no conveyances to be had, and the long hours drag slowly by until morning dawns and the grief-stricken parents can go to their darling. He was taken to the undertaking parlor, where services were held at 10 a.m. on Friday last. From there the weeping ones slowly drive to the cemetery, and in the shady woods of Holy Cross cemetery, away from the noise and bustle of the busy world, they have laid him to rest. The little grave was covered with lovely flowers from kind friends in Oakland and Berkeley. The parent's bereavement is rendered doubly hard to

"ASHE--DEATH of a PIONEER STOCKTONIAN -- Dr. R.P. ASHE, whose death took place in San Francisco last week was an old and esteemed citizen of this county. He was a native of North Carolina, which State he left at an early age, and took part in the Mexican war. After the close of that war he remained for a time in Texas, but emigrated to this State soon after the discovery of gold. He served as Sheriff of this county for 2 terms, being 1st elected in 1850. He was then appointed to the office of Naval Agent for the port of San Francisco, and served in that position through the administrations of Pierce and Buchanan, and until his removal by President LINCOLN. He then returned to this county, and resided here until about 2 years ago, when he was obliged to leave on account of failing health. He was an energetic and enterprising business man, and for the last 10 years has interested himself extensively in farming, and was one of the first to demonstrate the value for agricultural purposes of lands in portions of Stanislaus and Merced counties, now considered very valuable. His integrity of character was unquestioned, and he had the confidence of all with whom he had dealings. His death is regretted by a large circle of acquaintances." "BALL--A CHILD SMOTHERED to DEATH by its MOTHER -- One of those unnatural occurrences which so frequently take place in California, and which exhibit the lowest phase of human depravity, was witness at San Francisco on Monday night, in the murder of a child by a drunken mother. It was shown by evidence adduced before a Coroner's jury, that a woman by name of Margaret BALL, while beastly intoxicated, cause the death of her infant (a child of 2 months old), by lying on it in bed. The testimony of the father, was to the effect that his wife, for some time past, had been frequently intoxicated, and at such times was desperate and reckless to such an extent that he was forced to quit the house. She retired on Monday night, and in the following morning was found lying upon the child, smothering its until life was extinct. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the above facts." "BARNES--Mrs. Sarah Frances BARNES, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of Healdsburg, died at her home on South Fitch St., early Friday morning after a long period of ill health. The news of her death, though long expected, came as a shock to her family and the whole community. Citizen's old and young and in every walk of life expressed their sincere sympathy. For the hour of sympathy rolled as a wave over the city and found expression in kindly words spoken to the bereaved children, in tears and in flowers; silent tokens of a communities love and reverence for a noble life that had left the darkling shadows and the storms-clouds of ill health, for the effulgence of life beyond. Mrs. BARNES was born in Missouri nearly 80 years ago. She was united in marriage to W.H. BARNES and with him moved to California in the early days. In 1879 they selected Healdsburg as their permanent home and until she passed away Mrs. BARNES lived with her daughter, Miss Annie BARNES at the family home on Fitch St. Mrs. BARNES is survived by 9 children, 4 sons and 5 daughters as follows: Mrs. James R. MILLER, of Seattle, Wa.; John T. BARNES & William G. of San Francisco; Mrs. Nettie B. CHISHOLM, Windsor; Ben H. BARNES, Santa Rosa; Mrs. Edward QUINN, Mrs. R.A. SCHIEFFER, Charles Fredrick & Miss Annie BARNES of Healdsburg. The funeral services were held from her late residence, Sunday afternoon at 1:30. Rev. E.B. WARE, of the Christian Church delivered the funeral address. Within four days, there have been in the morgue three cases where deceased had been denied admission to a public hospital. "BARNEY--San Francisco -- Mysterious Death -- Probable Suicide -- A man named Daniel F. BARNEY, aged about 36 years, a carpenter, who had at times appeared deranged upon the subject of spiritualism, was found dead in an out house at the middle station near Fort Point. The body was found lying on the ground floor, upon the left side, with a gunny bag of straw under his head. His throat was cut, but the jugular vein was not severed, and the wound was not sufficient to have caused his death. On a further examination, a handkerchief was found tied tightly around his left arm above the elbow, and a deep cut across the arm, severing the bronchial artery, and penetrating to the bone. Strange to say, the sleeve of his under shirt was drawn down over the wound, and the over-shirt was buttoned at the wrist. The following letter, together with a number of accounts, and several verses of poetry showing that the deceased was laboring under Spiritualism, was found in his pocket: 'Mr. BONE, Sir: Please collect my account from Mr. SAYWOOD, and pay my bill to Mrs. CUMMINS, and an account with Mr. TAYLOR the post merchant, on Stockton street. Fear nothing. Respected friend, all is right, Adieu, Barney N.B. -- You see I have no idea of being long lost. D.B.' The man had apparently

"BARRON--Dispatch from San Francisco, Nov. 13--The will of Wm. E. BARRON, dated Oct. 24, 1871, was probated today. Thos. BELL, W.C. RALSTON and D.O. MILLS are administrators. The estate is valued at from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000. The testator declares that all the real estate standing in his name belongs to the firm of Barron & Co., except the rancho Caslamayome, which is held in trust for the heirs of Wm. FORBES, and part of a 50 vara lot on Sansome street, held in trust for Francisco MARTINEZ. He bequeaths $10,000 in San Francisco bonds during his life time to his brother Erestace BARRON, of Madrid, Spain, and gives to each of his 3 nieces, of Almeria, Spain, $40,000, and to this brother Phillip A., a release of all debts and the income during his life of $30,000, the principal to go to his nieces at his death; to his sister Senora Katalina Avela de BARRON, $15,000; to Mrs. Francisco PRICE, $10,000; to David M. RICHARD, $5,000 and to Christian GEHREL, $2,500. The residue of his estate is to be invested and from its earning $2,000 per month paid to his brother, Joseph BARRON; and in case the income exceeds $4,000 per month, the half is to be devoted to the education of his brother Joseph's children. After paying all, his estate is to be invested for the benefit of his brother Joseph and his children." Source: Stockton Daily Independent (Stockton, San Joaquin Co., CA) 14 Nov 1871. San Francisco County

Obituaries and Death Notices

A - D

Oakland--Oakland Jan 1--D.F. BATCHELDER, who for twelve years was a popular special policeman on the Broadway beat, between Ninth and Fourteenth streets, died very suddenly at his home, 811 Isabella street, this morning, of valvular disease of the heart. He was a native of Boston, aged 76 years. His wife died three years ago. The death of "Captain" BATCHELDER, as he was familiarly known, recalls a suit of no small proportions dismissed in the United States District Court some time ago. It involved the title to 160 acres of land known as BAKERs Beach, near Point Lobos, San Francisco. Captain BATCHELDER married Mrs. Maria BAKER, widow of the late John Henry BAKER, in the early '70's and shortly afterward the property referred to, and left by J.H.BAKER to his widow, was mortgaged by the newly-acquired husband, Captain BATCHELDER, for $36,000. The mortgage was held by the late John BRECKMYSTEL of San Francisco, who, it was afterward claimed, had foreclosed on it very suddenly one day and subsequently bought the property in for $60,000. This occurred in 1879, and in about June of that year BATCHELDER commenced suit for its recovery and the case has ever since hung fire in various courts, until recently, when it was thrown out of the United States District Court on the ground of lack of jurisdiction. Deceased leaves only a stepson, J. H. BAKER, who is also an officer, and who stated to-night that his stepfather's death would by no means terminate the effort to regain possession of BAKERs BEACH. The date of the funeral has not been determined, but the body will probably be interred in the family plot in Odd Fellows Cemetery, San Francisco." Source: clipping dated 1 Jan 1899. "BATY--OLD PIONEER PASSES--The death of John R. BATY removes another pioneer settler of this valley. The end came at the residence of Mrs. Wm HILL, at Modesto, where he was visiting. Coming to this valley and settling at Fort Bidwell when this part of the State was teeming with hostile Indians, his life was one of excitement, thrilling adventures and danger. He was a good neighbor, thoroughly imbued with old fashioned hospitality, and his latch string was always on the outside of his door, and he will be sadly missed in the community in which he has lived so long. John R. BATY was born in Ohio, September 3, 1839 and died March 5, 1925. He came to California in the 60's by way of the Panama route and located at Fort Bidwell and was married to Miss Laura MASON, daughter of Judge MASON, of Lake County, Ore., Oct. 30, 1870. To this union twelve children were born, and reared on the old home place at Bidwell.

"BILLMAN--MORTIFYING MURDER -- On Sunday morning, 20th inst., a most brutal assassination was committed in San Francisco. Mr. A. BILLMAN was the unfortunate victim of the cowardly murder. He was found in his back yard, in a dying condition, insensible, and, of course, unable to throw any light upon his horrible condition. The brain was oozing from his right ear, and his skull mashed down upon the left brain. The whole brain was beaten in. The left arm and 3 fingers of the left hand were fractured. Near by him lay a dray pin some 10 or 12 pounds in weight, covered with blood and hair. This was the instrument used for the murder. He died about 7 o'clock, Sunday evening. His wife says some one knocked at the door during the night, and her husband got up, and went out, and not returning at the end of half an hour, she arose to see what had become of him, and found him in the condition above stated. She says she heard no noise while the murder was being consummated. Her story, however, is contradicted by the appearance of the house, which shows that the 1st blow the unfortunate victim received was in the kitchen, as signs of a scuffle and of blood were on the floor, sufficient to show that such a scene could not have occurred without the knowledge of all the inmates of the house. The police have arrested Mrs. BILLMAN, a person named James MAGNESS, brother-in-law to Mrs. BILLMAN's 1st husband, and a negro named MOSE, who formerly belonged to Mrs. B.'s 1st husband, upon suspicion of being the murderers. Mrs. B. was a prostitute before BILLMAN married her. The murdered man had a ranch and over a hundred head of cattle near Benicia, and it is suspected, says the 'Herald,' that his death has been compassed by his wife, the widow of the deceased MAGNESS and the former mistress of the living MAGNESS, and by James MAGNESS, for the double purpose of getting possession of his Benicia property and of the schooner Morning Light. The negro MOSE is suspected of being the agent in this murder, for very strong reasons which have been ferreted out by the detectives. He stated positively that he retired at 12 o'clock, whereas it has been ascertained that he applied for lodgings at 2 o'clock, at which time he wore a black silk hat, but was refused unless he could pay the money. Mose went away, but returned half an hour afterwards with a brown hat and an iron pot, which letter he offered as compensation for his lodging. That pot has since been recognized as the one which belonged to BILMAN [spelled 2 ways], the murdered man, and was in his back yard the night previous to the murder." "BLEASE--SINGULAR SUICIDE -- A man named Henry BLEASE was found dead in his bed room in San Francisco on Saturday morning. The deceased was a painter and resided at 69 Natoma street. The 'Call' says: The deceased was last seen alive on Friday night, and as he was fully dressed when found, and his bed not disturbed, it is presumed that he put an end to his existence just after returning home. What induced him to kill himself, his friends and acquaintances are unable to surmise. Among his effects the Coroner, who had been notified, found $422.50 in coin, and 3 bank books, one showing that he had $1,530.60 in the Hibernia Savings Bank; $1,339 in the San Francisco Savings Union; and $629 in the Odd Fellows' Savings Bank, to his credit. On a table in the room was an open envelope, indorsed "The will of Henry BLEASE." It contained a sheet of paper, on which were written a few words to the effect that bequeathed all his property to his wife, who resides in Boston, with 2 children. "BLITZ--Bernard Samuel BLITZ, the well known Detective Policeman and Sergeant of Arms of the Board of Supervisors, died at Warm Springs, Alameda County on the morning of the 14th. The deceased was a native of Rotterdam, Holland, aged about *41 years. He came to the United States while yet a little boy, with his parents, who settled in Philadelphia, where Bernard was educated at an English school. He grew to manhood and married a lady of rare beauty, the daughter of a well known florist. Shortly after his marriage, the country was aroused by a report of a hostile canon on the Mexican frontier, and when President Polk called for volunteers, the deceased was one of the first to step forward and enlist in the armies of his adopted country. He accompanied General Cadwallder to Mexico and participated in the capture of Vera Cruz and the battle of National Bridge, where he displayed a reckless daring which attracted notice of the Commander-In-Chief, General Winfield Scott, who took him into his service and made home "Orderly". He returned with General Scott to New York at the close of the war, and was presented with a gold medal. After, remaining at home for a time, his adventurous spirit led him to become one of the first who sought fortune in the Golden Sands of California. Arriving here early in 1849, he visited the mines where he remained only a short time before he came to San Francisco, where he was appointed Policeman, a position he held to within a few months of his death. He was a good and faithful officer, a brave and accommodating gentleman and an affectionate and devoted husband. For many years he had hacks, cabs and public vehicles under his depionage and was quite a terror to the "jayhawkers", who hated him. During the visit of General Scott to this Coast, at the time San Juan had difficulties, the deceased took his old position by the old hero's side, and received from him, on his departure, a very flattering autographic letter. When the Police Commissioners begun the work of reorganizing the Police force, the deceased was removed, not because he was inefficient, but because he belonged to the unlucky party, and had not the pliability to turn a political somersault quickly enough. Some weeks ago he was taken sick with a lung disease, and went to the Springs in hope of recovering his health, but instead of finding it, he found immunity from the disease in death. He leaves a

"BOSTWICK--Henry "Bud" BOSTWICKJr - Henry "Bud" BOSTWICK Jr., one of the most influential figures in San Mateo County's growth and prosperity in the past half-century, died Tuesday in Monsey, N.Y., at the age of 86. Mr. BOSTWICK led the San Mateo County Economic Development Association from 1955 until 1992, an era of unrivaled housing and job growth. He was an affable man with a quick wit. One of his greatest joys was his son, Barry, who plays the mayor of New York on the television program "Spin City". When the younger BOSTWICK played George Washington in a miniseries, Mr. BOSTWICK joked that he was "the father of the father of our country". At work, Mr. BOSTWICK was a tireless promoter of San Mateo County wit a politician's skill at recalling names and faces. "He really was the ambassador for San Mateo County," Mary Griffin, president of the county Board of Supervisors, said Thursday. San Mateo County Manager John Maltbie said that whenever talk turns to the giants of the county's development boom of the 1950s and '60s, Mr. BOSTWICK's name is among the first to be mentioned, along with David Bohannon, developer of Hillsdale Shopping Center, and T. Jack Foster, builder of Foster City. "They and others like them all worked closely together and were largely responsible for the prosperity that we enjoy in this county today," he said. Many of the successes Mr. BOSTWICK and others in the development field enjoyed came before the environmental movement that in many ways they helped spawn. Environmentalist Lennie Roberts occasionally crossed swords with Mr. BOSTWICK on growth issues at county supervisors' hearings. Nonetheless, she paid tribute to his "dedication as a leader in the development community who was probably without peer." "Bud was a great guy, always very genial, a man with a really warm smile," she said. Born in Oakland, Mr. BOSTWICK grew up in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury neighborhood and attended Lowell High School and the University of California at Berkeley. After graduating from the American Institute of Banking, he married the former Betty DEFENDORF of San Mateo. He served in the merchant marine during World War II. Afterward, the couple moved to San Mateo, and Mr. BOSTWICK worked in the shipping business before establishing the public relations firm of BOSTWICK-Healy. He also became active in Republican politics, directing the successful congressional campaign for J. Arthur Younger and running the local presidential campaign for Dwight Eisenhower in 1952. He helped establish and then ran the San Mateo County Economic Development Association over five decades. "He knew exactly what should be said and what should be done," said Ron Sykora, a development association board member for many years and a retired officer of the Bohannon company. "He more or less did everything there." He was often the guest speaker for service clubs and other community groups. But Mr. BOSTWICK also worked behind the scenes, lobbying local politicians for projects he felt would benefit the economy. Mr. BOSTWICK moved to New York last year to be closer to his son. He is survived by his wife of 59 years, Betty; son Barry; and four grandchildren. His son Peter died in 1973. Funeral services were private. The family suggests donations to Hillbarn Community Theatre, 1285 E. Hillsdale Blvd., Foster City, CA 94404." Source: San Francisco Chronicle, 11 Dec 1999. Submitted by Carol Hicks.

"BOSTWICK--Services for Henry BOSTWICK--Private funeral services were held here yesterday for Henry BOSTWICK, a San Francisco pioneer, civic leader and utility executive who died in his home Wednesday after a long illness. He was 92. Mr. BOSTWICK was San Francisco manager of Pacific Gas & Electric Company, which he had been instrumental in founding until his retirement in 1945. He was a past president of the San Francisco Rotary Club, the San Francisco Electric Club, the Pacific Coast Gas Association and the Pacific Service Employee Association. He also participated in the found of the latter group. Mr. BOSTWICK was past grand master of Live Oak Lodge No. 61. Free and Accepted Order of Masons, in Oakland. In recently awarding him a 50-year pin his work in Masonic affairs, the lodge said Mr. BOSTWICK was probably the oldest living grand master of the order in California. A native of San Francisco, he was the son of Orasmus BOSTWICK, a California pioneer who came to San Francisco about the time of the Civil War. Mr. BOSTWICK was a self-educated man who went to work as a Western Union messenger boy before the turn of the century. Later he was employed on the old San Francisco Call before entering the utilities field. In 1904, he became associated with the California Gas & Electric Company, which later became Pacific Gas & Electric of which Mr. BOSTWICK was an executive since its founding before World War I. A widower, he made his home for many years at 897 Asbury street. Mr. BOSTWICK is survived by two daughters, Gladys DORWARD of Piedmont and Violet EDGERLEY of San Francisco; a son, Henry BOSTWICK Jr. of San Mateo; six grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren. "BOWLER--BOWLER, Cecilia--Body of Mrs. Alfred BOWLER Found on Banks of River. The body of the late Mrs. Celia BOWLER, 26, of San Francisco, wife of Alfred BOWLER, who was accidentally drowned in the Petaluma River, near Black Point, while boating with her husband on last Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, was sighted on Friday morning by Captain Al BRAVO of the steamer Gold of this city while on her regular trip to San Francisco. The body was lying on the bank of the river, on the Sonoma county side of the stream, about a mile and a half north of the Black Point cut-off highway bridge and when the steamer reached the bridge, Captain BRAVO reported his success in sighting the body to the bridge custodians. The husband, father and brother of Mrs. BOWLER had been at Black Point since the fatal accident, continuing their search for the body and awaiting its rise to the surface, believing that it had not been carried out into the bay. As soon as notified, they secured a launch and motoring to the spot pointed out by the steamer captain secured the body. On last Saturday, Mrs. BOWLER and her husband, a truck salesman of San Francisco, were in a skiff near the Black Point draw bridge, and were being towed by a launch, in which their six-year old son was riding. The skiff was accidentally overturned. BOWLER made a heroic attempt to save his wife's life but she went down in mid-stream and he was unable to locate her body and finally had to save himself as the river was quite rough. An intensive search was kept up for several days by many men, but they finally believed that the body had been carried by the current out thru the bridges into the bay so the search was discontinued by all save the husband, father and brother of Mrs. BOWLER. They have remained in the vicinity continually since the sad accident. At the request of Coroner Fred YOUNG who was unable to reach here, Deputy Coroner C.C. WHITE of the Mount funeral parlors motored to Black Point, removed the body from the waters and secured all of the data relative to the accident and the death of Mrs. BOWLER and at the request of the relatives turned the body over to a San Francisco firm of undertakers who left with it by auto hearse for the San Francisco shortly after it was landed." missing. He managed to get her before the wind and brought her safely in port. The missing captain, Charles BOYLE, was a native of Scotland, 35 years of age, and resided at 35 Church Street. He was married two years ago, and leaves a wife and one child. Captain BOYLE was sick in the early part of the year. He took a trip to Europe, returning a month ago, when the captain resumed his trading of butter in the schooners. He was subject to epileptic fits, and it is supposed that while at the wheel, the unfortunate captain was seized with one of them, fell overboard and was drowned." "BOYCE--On Wednesday last week, Mrs. Minnie L. BOYCE of San Francisco (daughter of N.T. WOLF of this place) died from a dose of morhine administered by herself. At Coroners Inquest, John BOYCE, her husband testified that his wife was a native of Missouri and aged 21 years. She was afflicted with neuralgia sometimes and was in the habit of taking morphine for relief. The jurys verdict was suicide, but it seems incorrect, it seems more reasonable to suppose she died of accidental overdose." Source: Russian River Flag (Healdsburg, CA), 18 March 1875. Long.' She arrived at this port safely and started back for Redwood Sunday. On her way she encountered the fearful gale of Sunday afternoon and was wrecked near the mouth of the creek off San Mateo and all on board lost about 10 a.m. Monday the sloop 'Roman' put out from Redwood City to her assistance and returned about midnight Tuesday with a confirmation of the sad event in all its particulars. The wreckers brought with them the small boat belonging to the wrecked sloop. When found, the 'Long' lay on her side with all her sails spread. They could not find any traces of the unfortunate people who were lost from her, nor could they succeed in righting her." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 27 Dec 1867. Transcribed by Dee.

"BRADY--A.B. BRADY DIES AT GRASS VALLEY--GRASS VALLEY (Nevada Co.), September 6 - After an illness of several months, A.B. BRADY, who came to California in 1849, reaching San Francisco on September 17th of that year from Norwalk, Conn., where he was born, died last night, aged 80 years and 5 months. He was one of the most prominent men of this county. When Mr. BRADY, in company with twenty-five young friends, came to this State, they first set up a sawmill at Benicia, but speedily seeing that business required a location closer to the mines, they moved the plant to Marysville, where, as Mr. BRADY used to relate, they cut up the numerous sycamores around the town into lumber and sold it at a good price. In the latter part of 1850 he mined with success near Oroville, but in the last month of the year he pulled up stakes and came to Grass Valley. This town was his home ever afterwards. He immediately went into the grocery business here, but later sold out and went into mining. He was County Recorder in 1889 and for four years later. Mrs. BRADY and five children survive him, three of the children residing here, one in New York and another in Los Angeles. The funeral will probably be under the direction of the Masons." "BRADY--Death at the Depot--A sad and startling incident occurred on the arrival of the morning train on Monday. A large, stout woman, who had complained of feeling ill on the boat, stepped from the cars to a chair in the passenger room and sat down. She appeared faint, and it became apparent that she was very sick, and medical aid was summoned. But it was of no avail. The lady died in a very few moments after stepping from the car. She had come to visit Mrs. SCOTT, and the body was taken to her house, where Justice GARDNER held an inquest. No autopsy was held, the physicians deeming the case so clearly one of heart disease that no examination was necessary. The jury of inquest consisted of Messrs. James ALLISON, W.A. BOYD, H.E. BIDWELL, John LePAGE, W.H. DeGROOT, and James WINANS. "BRANDA--A CORONER'S INQUEST was held on Thursday night, in San Francisco, on the body of Adolph F. BRANDA, whose suicide we mentioned yesterday morning. Their verdict of the jury was that he came to his death by poison administered by his own hand. The following was found written on a scrap of paper lying on the ground where he took the fatal poison. They were numbered by the dying man to show the order in which they were written: 1. "How slowly time passes. It seems to me nearly half an hour since I took the fatal dose, yet I do not suffer. How chilly it is. I feel stiff from the cold, yet the thought of my poor mother keeps my Heart warm or rather Hot [rest cut off] THE FAMILY OF THE LATE Adolph BRANDA -- A resident of Sacramento furnishes the 'Bee' with the following account of the parents and friend of BRANDA: About 35 years since, 2 brothers named BRANDA, from France, settled in Norfolk, Va. One commenced business in a small way at his trade, as jeweller -- the other entered into the mercantile business. Augustus BRANDA, the merchant, soon acquired fortune and Charles, in a few years, had a large establishment. Charles was a fine looking man, and became a great favorite with the ladies. He married one of Norfolk's most beautiful daughters, and lived in happiness for some 7 years, during which time he had 2 sons, Charles and Adolph. For some cause the wife left her husband, and for many years he was a broken-hearted man -- drank hard, and entered into accompanying vices that brought him to a suicide's grave. The writer was a boarder in the house where the once rich, handsome and courted Charles BRANDA cut his throat, and was dependent on former friends for his funeral expenses. Augustus BRANDA, the merchant, adopted the 2 orphan boys, his nephews, and his example in their youth was not the best. He was a libertine and seducer. Charles, the oldest son, is, or was, in business in New Orleans, and the other has followed his father to a suicide's grave. Neither mother nor sons saw Charles BRANDA buried." "BRANDON--DEATH CLAIMS E. J. BRANDON. San Francisco Supervisor Dies at Adler Sanatorium After Long Illness. Supervisor E J BRANDON died at the Adler Sanatorium yesterday afternoon after an illness of several months. He was elected Supervisor in 1915 and would have completed a full term of four years next January. He was chairman of the supervisors' building committee, a member of the street and other important committees. He received the highest vote of all the supervisors at the final election in 1915. He was born in the City in 1870 and was one of a family of seventeen. For many years he was connected with the board of works and for several years was superintendent of streets and sewers. He was a brick layer by trade and one of the organizers of the Building Trades Council. After the fire he formed a partnership with A. W. Lawson and the firm of Brandon & Lawson quickly rose to a prominent place in the building world. He was elected vice president of the Builders' Exchange and during the reconstruction period the firm did its share toward the rebuilding the city that he loved. He

"BREEN--Margaret BREEN, daughter of Mrs. Kate BREEN and the late Judge James F. BREEN, died at the Hollister Sanitarium last Sunday morning from the effects of a capital operation. She had been a patient sufferer for many years, so uncomplaining that few knew that she was ill at all. She was a devoted daughter and sister and her last thoughts were for those whom she so dearly loved. In a letter written but a few days before her death she implored a friend to comfort her mother, intimating that she would not survive the operation. Margaret BREEN was a native of San Juan. Most of her time of late years was spent in San Francisco where she was a society favorite. The "BROWN--Dispatch from San Francisco, Sept. 1 -- It was rumored this morning that a fearful murder had been committed in the southern part of the city. The facts, as far as can be ascertained, are these: Mrs. Annie BROWN, wife of Captain Jas. BROWN, a sea Captain, who had commenced boarding at No. 38 Natoma street, yesterday, was attacked during the day with delirium tremens, and in the afternoon called for a knife saying she wished to kill herself. night she made her escape from her room in her night dress and friends were hunting for her all night. This morning she was found lying dead on the floor of the laboratory in the rear of the drug store, corner of Second and Howard streets. Blood was oozing from her ears as if she had received a crushing blow on the head, and there were marks on the throat and mouth which led to the suspicion that she had been murdered. The clerk who usually sleeps there, did not do so last night. On examination it was found that the back door had been broken in, and it is now believed that she broke in there herself, being familiar with the premises from having roomed above for some years, and died either from the effects of a fall or from something which she may have swallowed in the drug store. The bottles were disturbed as if she had been hunting for some poison. The Coroner will make a full investigation." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 2 Sept 1872. Transcribed by Dee.

"BROWN--THE SAN FRANCISCO HOMICIDE - The Union's dispatch says: "In the case of the killing of the negro Sam BROWN, in Brenham's place, new and positive testimony was adduced before the Coroner's Jury to-day. Edward STEWART, formerly Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department, who rooms in the West End Hotel, and is very sick, testified that he was in the landlady's rooms at half-past one o'clock in the morning, sitting up with her while she wrote a letter to her husband. George STANTON, alias COCKEY, came in with BROWN, and they went up to COCKEY's room together. The landlady then went up stairs and met the negro in the landing. A moment later, COCKEY came out of his room in his shirt sleeves and threw a bottle after him. A savage struggle ensued, and COCKEY struck him repeatedly with his fists, and finally dragged or threw him out doors. STEWART was too weak to interfere. A few moments after BROWN was found dead, his neck broken. COCKEY was followed to his room by officer MEAGHER, who found him in bed with Ben. HARRISON, and remained near the door, while another officer went to the City Hall. While he was standing at the door he heard COCKEY ask Ben. if old Sam BROWN was dead. The landlady testified to the same facts, and the jury returned a verdict that the deceased was a native of Farmington, Connecticut, aged forty-nine, and came to his death from injuries received, December 10th, as they believe, from the hands of Geo. STANTON, alias COCKEY." "BROWN--BY STATE TELEGRAPH, San Francisco, Dec. 10 -- -About 2 o'clock this morning the dead body of Samuel BROWN, a colored man, was found lying on the sidewalk on Brenham Place, in front of the West End Hotel. About a half hour previous, the deceased and a man named George STANTON, but better known as 'Cockeye,' had some angry words on the corner of Clay and Pike streets. Both parties were in liquor at the time. The disturbance was quelled by the interference of bystanders without serious results. Soon after they left and proceeded down Clay street together. Shortly after a person came to officer Rogers and informed him that the dead body of a colored man had been found on Brenham Place, and upon going there he recognized the body as that of BROWN. Cockeye was arrested and is now confined in the Station House to await the result of the Coroner's inquest. The Coroner will hold a post mortem

"BROWN--Watt L. BROWN Laid to Rest- Scores of Friends in all walks of like pay last tribute of love - friends of Watt L. BROWN, of San Francisco's best loved newspapermen. gathered from many diverse paths of the city's life yesterday morning to attend his funeral service in Gray's Chapel. Many came from the composing rooms and the editorial rooms of the newspapers. In his thirty years of newspaper work, BROWN had become intimately acquainted with nearly every newspaper man in town. "Chronicle" men. "Bulletin" men. "Call" and "Post" men. Associated Press men and many who had worked with him in the days gone by sat in rows in the chapel near the body of the assistant city editor of "The Examiner", who died suddenly last Saturday morning. Although ill he did not give up work until two days before his death. -RICH AND POOR REMEMBER- One end of the chapel was banked high with flowers, wreaths and clusters of every description sent in by men in all walks of life. One was from George WINFIELD, Nevada mining magnate. The St. Francis Hotel, which BROWN "covered" as a hotel reporter for many years, where every clerk, bellboy and waiter looked upon him as a friend, sent a wreath. James WOODS sent one personally. Others were from the various newspapers and the Associated Press. The flowers were all sent to hospitals at the wish of the family. Just before the service an aged woman who sells newspapers on the street came with a single rose to place upon the offerings. She had known BROWN and mothered him in his days as a young reporter and he had befriended her many times since. -FRIENDS PAY LAST TRIBUTE- In the group of those who came to pay this last tribute were Charles C. MOORE, president of The Panama Pacific Exposition, and his naval aide, Lieutenant Commander C. Fred PURDY and Charles F. BULLOTTI, tenor singers of note, sang two duets, "Lead kindly Light" and "The Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" At the close PURDY sang "Nearer My God To Thee." -A PRINCE AMONG MEN- Dr. CLAMPETT read the lesson and then spoke briefly of BROWN's life. He said: A prince among men was Watt BROWN. His life was rich with those qualities which men most admire. His was a splendid attraction of mind and heart. Cleverness and goodness win love. His ability was fully tested in the race of life, a race which the modern press had made a keen, severe, almost overpowering test. He measured up and had much to spare. He was a man so human and kind that his loss strikes deep. His genial smile, his glad handshake, his unselfishness and tenderness created a personality radiant with sunshine. The honorary pallbearers were James WOODS, Alvah WILSON, Roy CARRUTHERS, J. W. CARROLL, E. "BRUCE--DEBAUCHERY and DOUBLE DEATH in SAN FRANCISCO -- A dreadful scene of debauchery and death was presented Friday afternoon at the shanty of Timothy BRUCE, San Francisco. The 'Bulletin' says that on Friday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, one of the BRUCE children was observed by a Mrs. WALTZ, who lives in the neighborhood, to be crying in the street, and upon interrogating her as to the cause, the child replied that she thought her mother must be dying, as she could not speak or move, and was so cold. Mrs. WALTZ immediately, in company with a neighbor, proceeded to BRUCE's shanty and found a scene which almost baffles description. In the middle room of the house, on a bed, lay the body of Mrs. BRUCE, perfectly dead; the clothes disordered, and everything in confusion. On a trunk near the foot of the bed and with his head fallen upon the feet of his wife, lay BRUCE, stone-drunk, and incapable of rising, or in any way helping himself. For the purpose of allowing Mrs. BRUCE to be examined, the husband was carried into the front room and placed upon a sort of bed made for him there. He was still alive, but so much intoxicated that he fell powerless. He had not been lying long, however, before he died, and he was found shortly afterwards, when attention was attracted to him from the dead body of his wife, to have expired, having either drawn the bedclothes over his head, or they having been thrown upon his head. Mrs. CUMMINGS was in the house, and pretended to be taking care of Mrs. BRUCE, but was herself so drunk that she did not know the poor woman was beyond help, and that in fact she was nursing a corpse. It is supposed that these dreadful deaths were occasioned by poisonous compounds sold under the name of brandy." Source: Weekly Stockton Democrat, 4 July 1858. Transcribed by Dee.

"BUCHANAN--DEATH of CAPT. ALEX. BUCHANAN -- The San Francisco papers, in their items of latest news from Fort Yuma, published on Saturday last, give accounts of a fatal shooting affray which happened at the Fort between one Edward GEORGE and Capt. Alex. BUCHANAN, in which the latter was instantly killed and the former supposed to be mortally wounded. The 'Bulletin' says: "The lie passed, and both broke for their revolvers. As BUCHANAN reached behind him to draw, GEORGE fired and hit him below the right arm, the ball passing through him. BUCHANAN now drew and shot GEORGE near the right nipple, the ball passing through him and lodging in the side of Big Twill. GEORGE fired again and so did BUCHANAN -- missing him, however. BUCHANAN fell dead, about 12 feet from the spot where he first fired. GEORGE fell and is supposed to be mortally wounded. Bill TWILLY is not dangerously hurt. All the parties were supposed to be the best of friends." Capt. BUCHANAN was one of the earliest settlers in San Andreas. He mined here in '50 and '51. During the time that Gen. William WALKER was hemmed up in Rivas, Capt. B. raised a company of men in this State and went to his aid. Whilst in Nicaragua he was in several sharp engagements, in one of which he was shot through the body, and suffered most shockingly, in that wretched hospital which has been so often described. Returning from Nicaragua after the capitulation of Rivas, in broken health and destitute circumstances, he again took up his abode in San Andreas, where he remained until last July, when he was offered and accepted a situation in the service of the Butterfield Overland Mail Co., near Fort Yuma. He sustained the reputation of being brave,

"BULETTE--MILLEN, the MURDERER -- We were yesterday informed on good authority, says the Virginia 'Enterprise,' of the 20th, that John MILLEN, the murderer of Jule BULETTE, went and sat up with the corpse the night after the murder, and that he even had the audacity to march in the funeral procession that followed her to the grave, wearing a large piece of crape on his arm. For some time past he has been particularly familiar with Chief EDWARDS, and has taken great pains to make himself familiar about the station-house. It is said that previous to his coming here he was married to a very beautiful woman in San Francisco, who died mysteriously within 3 weeks from the time of the solemnization of this nuptials. The man is either a perfect fiend or he is scandalously belied by those who have some knowledge of his past history. What could exceed his cold-bloodedness in passing the greater part of the night with his victim? Then to think of his attending her funeral with crape on his arm. A mourner!" "BURCHARD--While on his way to church at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, the Rev. John L. BURCHARD, one of the oldest Methodist ministers of California, was struck and instantly killed by an electric car on Telegraph avenue near 16th St., Oakland. The deceased was ordained a minister at the age of 19 in Delaware. In the spring of 1860 he came across the plains and settled in San Francisco. From that time till his retirement he was a leader of the California Methodist conference. He served in nearly every town or city of any size in the State. His latest charge was the Methodist church in Santa Rosa, but while there last May his wife died. The old man retained his commission but a short time, but in September, broken in health and spirit, came to live in quiet at the home of his son,. "BURKE--PNEUMONIA FATAL TO JERE T. BURKE--Familiar Railroad Political Figure Removed--BERKELEY, Nov. 12 - Jeremiah T. BURKE, for many years political agent of the Southern Pacific railroad in this state, died today at his home here of pneumonia. Mr. BURKE was stricken Wednesday last, but his physicians found no cause for alarm, and believed the attack to be a light one. Last night, however, he began to weaken, and his family was summoned to his bedside. "Jerry" BURKE, as he was widely known, was the right hand man of William HERRIN, chief of the Southern Pacific's legal staff, and was a familiar figure at state political conventions and sessions of the legislature for many years. Mr. BURKE was born at Joliet, Ill., in 1859, and came to California about thirty years ago. Soon after his arrival here he was appointed assistant secretary of the San Francisco Clearing House association, a position which he held up to two or three years ago. He handled much of the banks' legal business, and in the 80's represented the clearing house association at the state legislature. His first identification with the railroad interests in the state, in which connection he is most widely known, was in 1892, when he went to Los Angeles to take part in the reorganization of the electric street car lines of that city, San Francisco banks being heavily interested in the system. Later, on the death of O.A. HALE, he was made president of the San Jose Interurban railroads, and soon thereafter, tax attorney for the Southern Pacific company. These two positions he held at the time of his death. Mr. BURKE was a member of the board of school directors of San Francisco in 1890, the only public office he ever held. He was married nineteen years ago to Miss Elizabeth BURKE of San Francisco, and is survived by a widow and seven children. He will be buried here Tuesday." "BURKHARDT--Dispatch from San Francisco, Oct. 23 -- The jury in the case of Jacob WILKERSON, accused of murder of Harriet E. BURKHARDT, brought in a verdict of murder in the 2nd degree. His counsel, A.L. DUDLEY, had played the bold and shrewd game of making it appear that death resulted from suicide. The prisoner was placed on the stand and swore that the woman shot herself in his presence with his pistol, but that being excited and afraid that he might be implicate, took it away with him and said nothing about the occurrence to others in the house. On the jury was a man who had been tried for his life in this city, and who was a customer of WILKERSON's when he kept a barber shop in Mazatlan some year ago. It is thought that the suicide pretense affected some of the jury and forced a compromise verdict, as the jury were so impressed by the pretense that, after being out half an hour, they sent for the clothing worn by the deceased at the time of her death, in order to more fully understand the place of the wound and course of the ball." was due to old age. Although she almost lived a century, she had but one sickness during her lifetime and that was 10 years ago. The deceased was a native of Maine and was born August 14, 1806. She was the daughter of James EATON, one of the prominent residents of that State. She was married in 1827 to Thomas BUTTERFIELD, and they were the founders of the Wilton carpet factory. They moved to Esoostook, where they engaged in the lumbering business. In 1846 they went to Wisconsin, and from there they were attracted to California by the gold fever. They crossed the plains with teams and arrived here in 1852. They located at Plumas, where they resided for many years, afterwards going to Santa Cruz and San Benito county, where the deceased has since resided. She leaves 1 daughter, Mrs. Ruth TOMPKIRE, of Nevada City, and 3 sons, William BUTTERFIELD of San Francisco, George BUTTERFIELD of San Benito county, and James BUTTERFIELD of New Westminster, B.C. "BUTTERWORTH--Death of a Prominent Citizen. Yesterday afternoon, after a protracted and painful illness, Samuel F. BUTTERWORTH, a prominent citizen passed away. The deceased was born in 1811, at Newburg, New York. He was educated at the Union College, in that State, and after graduating practiced law in New York City. Under Van Buren's Administration he was appointed U. S. District Attorney for Mississippi, and married a lady of that State. On the organization of the U. S. Branch Mint in New York, he was appointed the first Superintendent by President Buchanan. Mr. BUTTERWORTH, during his long career, had always been a Democrat, and rendered important service to the party in every trying contest. From the time of his arrival in California in 1864 till June, 1870, he was President and Manager of the New Almaden Quicksilver Mines. When the State University was established by an Act of the Legislature, he was appointed one of the Regents by Gov. HAIGHT, and was Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Regents of the University. He was an active and devoted friend of the institution, and his name appears upon the minutes of the Board of Regents as the proposer and author of several of the prominent features of its organization. He introduced the resolution abolishing all fees and charges, and declaring the University absolutely free to all properly qualified applicants as well of other States and countries as California. He was also the author of the resolution opening the doors of the University to young women and admitting them on terms of equality with young men. He was President of the North Bloomington Gravel Mining Company, and at the time of his death was one of the Golden Gate Park Commissioners. Mr. BUTTERWORTH leaves a wife and two daughters, Mrs. C. P. PRINGLE and Mrs. Louis T. HAGGIN. The funeral will take place Friday (to-morrow) morning, at 11 o'clock, from Trinity Church." "BYRNE--A FATAL DIVE--SAN FRANCISCO, July 13 - Early this morning a party of gentlemen, among whom was William C. BYRNE, went to Harbor View for the purpose of surf bathing. After disrobing they disported in the water for some time, and finally BYRNE mounted the springboard and dived into the bay. His companions saw him come to the surface, but he made no attempt to swim and quickly sank. Two of the party immediately went after him and between them managed to get him ashore, but he was then dead and the Coroner's deputies were notified. At the time BYRNE made his dive the tide was out and the water was only seven feet deep. In diving the unfortunate man struck upon his head, breaking his neck. He was a native of Missouri and 29 years of age. The deceased had no relatives in this city, but it is understood that his aged mother lives in the interior of the State, supposedly near Wheatland." "CADY--Bridget--DRANK MURIATIC ACID IN MISTAKE FOR MALT--San Francisco, May 21--As a result of an accident, Mrs. Bridget CADY, 64 years old, died at the County and City hospital this morning. She succumbed to muriatic acid poisoning, which she took by mistake last Wednesday. Mrs. CADY resided with her son-in-law, S. DUNNINE (should be E. DUNNING), 144I Harrison street. DUNNINE [DUNNING] is a saloon keeper at Main and Howard streets and it was his custom frequently to bring home bottles of malt for Mrs. CADY. Last Wednesday, his wife asked him to purchase some muriatic acid as she wanted to do some cleaning. He took a malt bottle in which to procure the fluid and took it home that night. His mother-in-law, believing it to be malt, swallowed a considerable quantity". Source: Oakland Tribune, 21 May 1912, page 3. "CADY--STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION -- The steam ferry boat, Contra Costa, exploded her boiler on Sunday morning last, whilst crossing the bar to enter Oakland. She was just from San Francisco, had been racing with another boat, the Oakland; hence, as is alleged, the disaster. We append a list of the killed, taken from the 'Alta,' of Monday, together with the number of the injured: List of the Killed -- The following is the list of those who are known to have been killed: -David W. CADY, a street contractor, formerly Deputy City Surveyor, aged 34 years, a native of New York. Mr. C. was blown into the air and fell into the water; he swam to the boat and was taken on board the Oakland, but died soon after. Michael G. SMITH, the barkeeper of the boat, was engaged in opening a basket of wine at the time of the explosion. The bar-room was entirely carried away, and the unfortunate man was never seen afterwards. It is rumored that a hand was subsequently found which, by a ring upon one of the fingers, was recognized as belonging to Mr. SMITH. Henry L. OSTRANDER, one of the crew, was dreadfully scalded and was brought to this city [San Francisco] and taken to the Marine Hospital, where he died soon after. Albert WINSHIP, one of the firemen, was dreadfully scalded, and taken on board the steamer Oakland and conveyed to the shore, where he died in a few minutes. George McDOWELL, the head fireman of the boat, a native of New Jersey, and a son of ex-Alderman McDOWELL, of Sacramento. His remains were brought to this city [San Francisco] on the wreck of the Contra Costa, but re-taken to Oakland for a Coroner's inquest. Also another man, name unknown, who is said to be a keeper of a boarding house on Pacific street. 24 scalded and wounded." Source: The San Andreas Independent, 9 April 1859. Transcribed by Dee.

"CARR--The murder of Mrs. Ann CARR, formerly Mrs. BOUCHER of Marysville, by her husband, Nicholas L. CARR, a tailor, at their house on Twenty-fourth street, between Bartlett and Mission streets, at Mission Dolores, discovered this morning, proves to have been a horrible affair. Two young women who work in the shop went to the house this morning and were told by CARR to go for a policeman as he had taken laudanum. He told the officer he had killed his wife and tried to kill himself. The woman was found laid out on the floor of the back bedroom with a pillow under her head, blood on the bed and the marks of a terrible struggle everywhere. She was evidently killed yesterday. CARR had stabbed himself 7 times, and had cut his left arm open, and although nearly dead from loss of blood, is still living. They have never lived happily together, and he says she deceived him as to her character before marriage. He says she attacked him with a poker and he killed her with 1 blade of a pair of shears, in self defense. He made his will today and probably will not live many hours. He is 59 years of age and she was about 50." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 6 July 1872. Transcribed by Dee.

"CARR--CARR, who killed his wife yesterday, is reported much easier and in no immediate danger of death from his wounds or the laudanum which he swallowed this morning. His wounds have all been probed and found to not have entered the cavity of the chest. His wife has been intemperate, if nothing worse, for a long time, and he says he meditated suicide for years. A charge of murder has been entered against him." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 6 July 1872. Transcribed by Dee.

"CARR--Dispatch from San Francisco, July 7 -- The remains of Mrs. CARR, who was killed by her husband, was buried today. It appears that she was jealous, without cause, of an orphan girl named HEALY, who lived in the family, and that the trouble which resulted in her killing, grew out of his defence of the child from her insane attacks. The neighbors assert that the girl is thoroughly respectable, and that nothing in her conduct gave the least excuse for the jealousy

"CARR--Dispatch from San Francisco, July 10 -- In the case of CARR, who killed his wife at the Mission Dolores, the Coroner concluded the inquest this evening. It was shown that the trouble in the family all grew out of hatred and jealousy manifested by Mrs. CARR for the orphan girl Lizzie HALEY, and while there is no reason to doubt that the conduct of the girl was irreproachable, the evidence indicated rather strongly that CARR was at the least extremely partial to her. "CHALMERS--MAN DROWNS WHILE REPAIRING A DAM. Damage to a Mining Company's Property Will Require a Year to Repair Besides Entailing Much Financial Loss. [Special Dispatch to "The Examiner."] MERCED, December 14. -- News has reached here that a portion of the dam on the Merced river near Benton Mills, Mariposa county, has washed out resulting one death and great financial loss. The dam was built by the Mariposa Commercial and Mining Company for the purpose of applying power for their numerous mines in that locality. It was completed a year ago at a cost of $33,000. The break in the dam consists of a hole three feet long and three or four feet high and is located at the bottom of the foundation. An immense body of water is pouring through the hole and as all efforts to stop the leak have failed, the superintendent has given up hope and it is expected the entire dam will be washed out. A years' time will be required to reconstruct it. Among the men employed to repair the leak was John CHALMERS, who has been in the employ of the company for sometime. In stepping or jumping from one timber to another he fell into the swift current of the river and was drowned." Source: San Francisco Examiner, 15 December 1902, p. 9. Mr. CHAPMAN was the first who opened the Stockton Theatre, which he made so popular with our citizens by his own irresistible powers, seconded as they were by his sisters, Miss Caroline CHAPMAN and Mrs. W.B. HAMILTON. distinguished position upon the American stage. He began his career as a boy, at Covent Garden Theatre, where his father had been an actor during 30 years, and where his brother Sam, 2 years his junior, played Prince Arthur in "King John," with Mrs. SIDDONS. From thence he went to the English Opera House, and became noted for singing many of the songs of the elder MATTHEWS. In 1828, he received offers to visit the United States, and accepted an engagement with Mr. GOVERNEUR, making his 1st appearance at the Bowery Theatre, New York. Two years after, he became joint manager with his brother Sam, of the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia. As a low comedian he was always ranked among the 1st in the country, and Dr. PANGLOSS, Billy LACKADAY, Toney LUMPKIN and a very wide range of characters, including eccentric comedy, and, later in life, leading old men, Mr. CHAPMAN had no superior, while in many personations he stood unrivalled. He possessed an infinite fund of humor -- its quality the most unctuous and irresistible. For a few months past, Mr. CHAPMAN evinced symptoms of declining health, but his friends and family did not apprehend the swift approach of the final summons, until a few hours before his death. His close was calm and peaceful. The last words to his devoted brother, Mr. HAMILTON, were: "It's over now -- they story's told." And placidly he sank to sleep. Mr. CHAPMAN leaves a wife -- for 27 years the constant and beloved companion of his joys and sorrows -- and 2 boys, both of whom already evince bright tokens of that histrionic genius with which so many of the family have been gifted." "CHENOWETH--San Francisco Aug. 28 - Great excitement was caused here tonight by a murder and a suicide in the Peerless Saloon, on Market Street, the same place where GARNESS was killed several months ago. Richard CARROL, Sr., a prominent wholesale liquor dealer and John CHENOWETH, the proprietor of the Saloon, had a quarrel over business matters and the latter drew a revolver and shot CARROL dead. The murderer then placed the revolver to his own head and, firing, fell a corpse on the floor beside the victim. The murdered man was the senior member of the firm of CARROL & CARROL and the father of Richard CARROL, Jr., a well-known Democrat politician. He was also a member of the Assoc. of Cal. Pioneers and highly thought of in business circles. CHENOWETH was formerly prominently known in Sacramento, where he managed one of the theatres and owned a large saloon." "CLARK--CROSSED THE PLAINS IN '50--DEATH OF JOSEPH CLARK, PIONEER--San Francisco, January 6, 1900 - Joseph CLARK, a miner, clubsman, capitalist, one of California's best known citizens, died at the Pacific Union Club last midnight. He was cousin of the late Senator George HEARST and had been a partner of that gentleman in many important business enterprises. Mr. CLARK was 72 years of age. He was born in Missouri, about 50 miles from St. Louis, and when a young man, crossed the plains and made his way to California, arriving at Nevada City in 1850. He and Senator HEARST were more like brothers than cousins, and embarked on many adventures together, prominent among which were their mining operations about Nevada City and Washoe, at which latter place he was one of the pioneers. In 1862 Mr. CLARK came to San Francisco. He was a bachelor and took up residence at the Pacific Union Club, which has been his home for the past thirty seven years. He has been ailing in slight degree for some time, but experienced no alarming indisposition until eight weeks ago when his malady assumed a serious turn. "COLE--DEATH OF MRS E. C. COLE IN SAN FRANCISCO--E. C. BONNER received a telephone message yesterday morning from the nurse at the San Francisco hospital informing him that his mother, Mrs. E. C. COLE, was dying and perhaps could no more than two hours. Mr. BONNER with wife and son, Jack left by automobile for her bedside, but they did not arrive before her death as a telegram came in the evening saying that she had passed away at 7:30 p.m. The estimable lady will be remembered by many of the old timers of Modoc for her beauty and vivacity and charming manners when she resided in Cedarville, more than 60 years ago, the first wife of the late John H. BONNER. Her death was not unexpected, as she had been ill for many months. Mrs. Emeline C. COLE was in her 80th year and was a native of Iowa. She was a sister of C. L. CLAFLIN, of Bakersfield and Mrs. M. F. HAYNES of Iowa. Of her immediate family, E. C. BONNER, her only son and his family survive her. An only daughter, Miss Edna passed away more than twenty years ago. We extend sympathy and condolences to Judge BONNER." "COLES--N. Willis COLES, a gentleman well known in this city [San Francisco], and formerly book-keeper in the office of ex-Sheriff DOANE, met with a most horrible death a few minutes past 8 o'clock this morning at the station of the San Jose Railway, in fourth street. Mr. COLES was about to take passage in the 8 o'clock train, for Redwood City, and while standing on the platform talking to Mr. NEWHALL, President of the road, the train started. In attempting to jump upon the car, he accidentally fell between it and the platform, being caught by the moving train, was crushed in the most horrible manner, his body being carried along by the train and twists several times round, until presses into a space not more than 6 inches in width before the train stopped. His body had been crushed from the legs up to the breast. The planks of the platform had to be sawed out before the body could be removed." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 28 March 1866. "CONE--RED BLUFF LOSES PROMINENT CITIZEN--Douglas A. Cone Dies In San Francisco Where He Went Weeks Ago To Receive Special Surgical Care--RED BLUFF (Tehama Co.), July 17 - Douglas S. CONE, only son of Mrs. Anna R. CONE and the late J.S. CONE, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, after a brief illness of typhoid pneumonia. He was 38 years old, and had been a prominent citizen of this county ever since attaining his majority. The funeral arrangements as far as completed are that the body shall be brought to the city to-morrow afternoon by train and that the funeral cortege shall start from the depot to Oakhill Cemetery, where the coffin will be placed in the family mausoleum. The widow was with her husband during his last hours and was present at the deathbed. Douglas Spencer CONE was born at the family home in this county and has always been popular with his associates here and elsewhere. His father, for many years a Railroad Commissioner from this district, was one of Tehama County's foremost citizens and at the time of his death, about ten years ago, he left an estate which was appraised at considerably more than $1,000,000. There were three children, one son, Douglas, and two daughters, Mrs. Edward W. RUNYON of San Francisco, and Mrs. J.D. SHERWOOD of Spokane, Washington. At present Mrs. Anna R. CONE, the widow of the late merchant and stockman, and her daughter, Mrs. RUNYON, are in Paris, France. Mr. and Mrs. SHERWOOD are expected from the north at noon to-day. The CONE estate consisted originally of the magnificent tract of 200,000 acres on the east side of the Sacramento River, just opposite this city, a large block of stock in the general merchandise firm of CONE and KIMBALL, since incorporated, and a substantial share of the capital stock of the Bank of Tehama County. The heirs have united in keeping the greater part of this vast estate under one management and it has been operated under the corporate title of the CONE Ranch Company and other companies. Douglas CONE has resided the greater portion of his lifetime on the home place, a comfortable residence known as the headquarters of the CONE Ranch, where he and his wife, formerly Miss LEWIS, of San Francisco, have dispensed a delightful hospitality. He was very prominent in the social and business life of the community, having been active in many new enterprises and a leader in all movements for the improvement of livestock of all kinds, particularly horses. He was one of the Republican leaders in this county. In 1900 he was a delegate to the Republican National Convention which met at Philadelphia and nominated McKINLEY and ROOSEVELT. For many years he was a Director of the District Agricultural Society for Tehama County and took a leading part in all county and district fairs. He was an active member of Chico Lodge, No. 423, B.P. O.E., and this Order will conduct the funeral services at the grave. Mr. CONE's illness dates from last Winter, when he was thrown from a buggy while returning from a trip to the Navajo Mine and suffered a compound fracture of the right leg. For some unexplained reason, the bones refused to knit and he was compelled to undergo many painful operations. He had been undergoing treatment in Lane Hospital, San Francisco, shortly before his fatal illness, and was still under the surgeon's care when he contracted the disease which caused his death. There will be a general cessation of business at the time of the funeral." Source: The Evening Bee (Sacramento, Cal.), 17 July 1905, Page 6. Transcribed by Betty Loose.

"CONTRERA--Boy Killed by Fireworks. San Francisco, Sept. 2 - Making himself into a human skyrocket, little Diego CONTRERA, 12, of 1309 Montgomery st. was so seriously burned yesterday that he died a few hours later. The boy was playing on Telegraph Hill when he found a pile of skyrockets, firecrackers and other explosives that had been thrown away. With boy-like inquisitiveness, Diego broke the rockets open. The powder and explosive balls that he found inside he stuffed into the front of his trousers, into his shirt pockets and inside his shirt. The lad's mother saw the powder when the boy went home, and commanded him to empty his pockets. The boy refused to give up his 'treasures' and when his mother attempted to take them by force, Diego ran from the house. The friction caused by running and the heat from his body ignited the explosives. In an instant the boy was the center of a terrifying pyrotechnic display, with burning powder and exploding shells all about him." Source: Petaluma Argus Courier, 2 Sept 1929.

"COOMBS--THE NAPA MURDER and SUICIDE -- The San Francisco 'Chronicle' of yesterday contains the following: A very strange case of murder and suicide in Napa came to our attention last evening. It seems that the wife of Fred COOMBS (who is a brother to Nathan COOMBS) sued for a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty, and that Mr. PENDEGAST was her lawyer. Fred called at PENDEGAST's office and asked to see his wife. The interview was granted and immediately after pistol shots were heard. An investigation was at once had, when it was discovered that Fred had fired at and shot his wife twice, once through each breast and then blew his own brains out. Fred COOMBS came to this country from Cape Cod, Mass., in 1852, and was about 40 years of age at the time of his death. He had a difficulty with a man named CLARK in 1865 or '66, whom he killed while sitting on a fence by stabbing him. About that time a bill was passed by the Legislature, allowing a wife to testify either for or against her husband, and his wife's testimony cleared him on the charge. Several children are left to mourn their loss." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 23 Feb 1871. Transcribed by Dee.

"COOPER--The death of Dr. Charles E. COOPER, the distinguished surgeon, occurred yesterday morning at his residence, 1824 Pacific Avenue, inflammation of the heart due to overwork, being the cause. Dr. COOPER had an international reputation and his death at the early age of 40 years will be mourned by a wide circle of friends and admirers. He was born near Sacramento and was graduated from Cooper Medical College of this city. He completed his education in Europe and studied under famous savants, Pasteur and Koch. Last year Dr. COOPER was a delegate from California to the International Medical Congress held in Paris and attended a similar congress held in Moscow the previous year. Dr. COOPER was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the Odd Fellows. He worshipped at the First Presbyterian Church. A widow and two children survive. The widow is a prominent member of the California Century Club. Dr. COOPER was ill for three weeks and the news of his death caused a shock to all that knew him. The interment will be private." "CRESSLER--DEATH OF S. O. CRESSLER--Samuel O. CRESSLER, one of the best known and most prominent men of Modoc County and Southern Oregon, passed away at San Francisco last Wednesday and his remains arrived here Saturday evening, accompanied by his wife and sister, Mrs. B. B. ROBINSON and Mrs. E. H. FETHEROLF and were laid to rest in the family plot of his father, William T. FETHEROLF, in the Masonic cemetery; the funeral being conducted Sunday afternoon under the auspices of Surprise Valley Lodge, No. 235, F. & A. M., assisted by Rev. J. Bruce WYLIE, and Charles S. BALDWIN, District Deputy Grand Master; and a large number of Masonic brethren from Lakeview and Alturas; with Charles E. CUMMINS, Ira A. DARST, Edwin GHRIST, E. R. TYERYAR, John REYNOLDS and R. H. STANLEY as pallbearers. For years the name of S. O. CRESSLER, "Sam" as he was familiarly called, was a household word in Surprise Valley, where he was practically raised. For years, he conducted a store at Lake City, Cal., and his many acts of kindness to the poor and needy endeared him to the entire community. In 1904, he moved to Lakeview and entered the banking business and for years, was Vice President of the First National Bank of Lakeview, retiring on account of ill health about four years ago. He was of a courteous, genial nature that made friends for him wherever he went. He was a man among men and commanded the high esteem and respect of all and only words of sorrow and deepest regret were expressed when the sad news reached here that he had passed away. Samuel Orrin CRESSLER was born at Red Bluff, December 7th, 1869 and died at San Francisco, April 13, 1927. He was united in marriage to Charlotte Edith PAGNELLO, May 4, 1890, at Lake City, Cal. He leaves to mourn his death, his wife; Mrs. B. B. ROBINSON, his sister; his nephews, B. C. and O. "CRITTENDEN--DOOMED.--Laura D. FAIR is Sentenced to be hung On the 28th day of July, Proxio. It is known to all, perhaps, by this time, those who have heard bout this famous criminal case, that the prisoner has been condemned to die on the gallows. On last Saturday, June 3rd instant, the sentence was passed. The following was the termination of the drama as reported by the San Francisco Examiner Mr. COOK, in concluding his argument during the afternoon session dwelt principally on the state of mind in which the fatal act was committed; on the doubt as to the insanity of the prisoner, the benefit of which should accrue to the prisoner; on the error of the Court in allowing testimony against the chastity of the prisoner, which could have no other effect than to prejudice the jury against her; on the misconduct of the jury in going to theatres, horse-races and other public places, where the evil of exposure was at its height. Mr. COOK dwelt at length on the disqualifications of certain men who served on the jury, especially in the case of the juror BEACH. He closed his argument at a quarter past three. Judge DWINELLE then delivered the sentence. In his preamble, he spoke of the advantages given the prisoner, of the time that had been expended to enable her to bring forward every circumstance that might aid her cause. The affidavits tending to impeach the integrity of certain jurors were also mentioned. The sentence was pronounced in the following words: "Laura D. FAIR, you are indicted by the Grand Jury of the city and county of San Francisco, for the crime of murder, in the unlawful killing of Alexander P. CRITTENDEN. That indictment was sent to this Court for trial. You were tried by honest and capable men. You were ably defended by counsel, the most eminent of our Bar. That jury pronounced you guilty. Have you and legal cause to show why the judgment of the Court should not now be pronounced?-(Pause.) As there is no response the judgment of the Court is that on Friday, the 28th day of July next, you be by the Sheriff or other officer appointed by law hung by the neck until you shall be dead, and may God have mercy upon your soul." At its conclusion, the scene in the Court-room was very affecting. Mrs. FAIR sat as pale as death, while around were weeping women, and her little daughter, with great scared eyes that looked in dismay on the scene that, fortunately for her, she did not wholly realize. Mrs. FAIR, some time after adjournment, was taken back to the prison and locked in cell 32. An appeal is taken to the Supreme Court, which tribunal will hear the arguments on the exceptions of counsel at its July term, and either confirm the judgment and sentence of the Court below, or remand the case for a new hearing. It would, of course, be improper to speculate upon the probable action of the Court of final resort, in which now rest the hopes of the condemned woman for a cancellation of the sentence she heard pronounced upon her." "CROCKER--Marion CROCKER--Marion Phyllis CROCKER, adventurous descendant of the railroad building family that linked the American coasts in the 19th century, has died. She was 98. Miss CROCKER, who died Sunday at home in San Francisco, was the first society woman in the city to go to France in World War I to drive an ambulance, remaining with the American Field Service Committee until long after the armistice. She was the daughter of Henry J. CROCKER, a banking and oil businessman of the day, and his wife, Mary IVESCROCKER. Her grandfather, Clark CROCKER, helped build and run the Central Pacific Railroad. After World War I ended, she wrote friends: "I stood with the crowds on the Avenue Bois de Boulogne and joined the cheers as President WILSON went by." Some 30 years and another war later, she toiled at home for creation of the United Nations. Early in life she demonstrated her craving for excitement, proving it with a flight aboard a flying boat over San Francisco in 1911. The trip, she told friends, hadn't frightened her at all. The following year, she pooh-poohed the complaints of an Army officer that he had been forced to make an arduous three-day, 90-mile horseback ride by setting out to better him. She began on her father's stallion, switched to her own, then finished on a pony from the family ranch, traveling 102 miles in 14 hours. She never married. Private family services were held." "CUMMINGS--PASSING AWAY--Death's Summons Comes To Another Pioneer--William CUMMINGS the Latest Victim of the Fell Destroyer--Death continues to knock at the doors of the old Pioneers, with steady and relentless hand. This morning the fire bell tolled out the news of the death of William CUMMINGS, the pioneer jeweler, who passed away at his residence, on Eighth street, between H and I, at 4:45 A.M. Deceased was born in Philadelphia on March 21st, 1821. He learned the trade of a silversmith and pursued that vocation in Philadelphia and Boston. During the gold excitement of 1849, however, he joined the William Penn Mining Company and came to California, arriving in San Francisco just in time to celebrate the Fourth of July, 1849. After spending a few days at the Bay he came up the Sacramento in a schooner and went to Willow Bar, where he engaged in mining. The William Penn Company soon collapsed, however, and Mr. CUMMINGS came to Sacramento, having but $50 with which to start in life. He formed a partnership with a man named HASTINGS, and they were in the jewelry business together about two years. Then Mr. CUMMINGS went into the jewelry business for himself at 408 J street, where he remained for eighteen or twenty years. Mr. CUMMINGS was married to Rebecca BYRLEY, in Philadelphia, in 1839. They had a family of ten children, of whom only three are alive - William, Louis and Benjamin - all of whom are jewelers in San Francisco. Mrs. CUMMINGS still survives. Mr. CUMMINGS retired from business some years ago, having an income that would keep him comfortable. He was a member of the Sacramento and San Francisco societies of Pioneers, a member of the order of Red Men and an Exempt Fireman. He always led an exemplary life, and was a most devoted husband and father, and true friend. He was especially popular with his fellow Pioneers, and one of them said this morning, with tears in his eyes: "William CUMMINGS was in every respect a good man; I had as great regard for him as though he had been my brother." Mr. CUMMINGS had been in failing health for some years, but death came suddenly and painlessly at the end. His funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Pioneers will assemble at their hall at 3:30 o'clock, and march from there to Red Men's Hall." Source: Sacramento Evening Bee, 15 July 1891.

"DAVIDSON--SUDDEN DEATH -- J. DAVIDSON, a farmer on the Calaveras, in this county, died suddenly at the Occidental Hotel on Weber avenue, in this city on Saturday. He left home the day preceding in good health and was taken ill on the road to town, with bilious colic. The disease assumed a virulent form, baffling all medical skill and terminating fatally in about 24 hours. Deceased was 40 years of age and leaves a widow but no children. He was brother to D. DAVIDSON, of San Francisco. He was buried at the Rural Cemetery. The funeral services were read and sermon preached by Rev. Dr. HAPPERSETT, yesterday evening at the hotel where he died, and at half-past 4 the cortege moved out to the burial ground." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 17 Sept 1866. "DAVIS--ALBERT DAVIS PASSES--Hemorrhage of the Lungs Was Immediate Cause of Death--WOODLAND, Oct. 7 - Albert DAVIS was found dead Sunday morning, and his physician states that hemorrhage of the lungs was the immediate cause. He had been under treatment for cardiac asthma for a number of years and had been frequently warned that he must take every possible precaution against hemorrhages. Two or three days previous he had a mild attack and his friends advised him to remain in bed until he had fully recovered. Saturday night he complained of feeling rather worse than usual and he retired early. At midnight some friends called to see him and they saw no indication of hemorrhage. About 7 o'clock Sunday morning he was found dead. He probably died between 4 and 5 o'clock. Will DAVIS, brother of the deceased, is in San Francisco. Efforts have been made to locate him but so far without avail. The funeral will probably be held on Wednesday and it will be held under the auspices of the Eagles. Deceased was also a member of the Neutawanha lodge, No. 245, I.O.O.F., of Fulton, of Infantry, U.S.A., was found dead in his room at the Philadelphia House, on Bush street. A gland was sufficient to show that he had committed suicide by cutting the arteries of his right arm with a razor that was found on a table in the room. Near the razor was a letter addressed: "Call' office, Frisco," and it read as follows: "The 'Daily Call: Publish this letter for me. I am going to fill a suicide's grave, and may God forgive me. I have left $1,000 in the bank at Portland for the Orphan's Home. May the children who receive the benefit of it be men for the good of society. John W. DAVIS." For several days previous to his death he gambled his money very freely, and on Thursday night lost about $500 at a faro table. He was last seen alive by a servant girl in the house, who went to his room to make up his bed. He was still in bed, and told her he did not care about having the room cleaned at that time, and that when he wanted her he would send for her. The Coroner was notified, and took charge of the remains." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 4 May 1871. Transcribed by Dee.

twenty-five years, the success of the institution being in great measure due to his financial skill and the confidence reposed by the public in his prudence and integrity. Mr. de FREMERY was born on February 17, 1826, on the estate of his family at Ouwendyck, near The Hague, Holland. Leaving home at an early age, he arrived in New York in 1848, where he engaged in commercial pursuits. He remained there three years and left for California by way of Panama, arriving here in 1849. Socially he was excellent company, hospitable and charitable; deserving poverty never appealed to him in vain, and his charities followed the ungrateful as they did those who appreciated his benevolence. He was a man of extensive reading, and a writer of force; he contributed to the newspapers when there were objects to accomplish in the interests of progress and good government; he wrote miscellaneous articles on many occasions, and published several books. Of late years he has been busy with the preparation of a local history. The wife of Mr. de FREMERY died several years since in Switzerland. "DENEHY--LOCAL MERCHANT PASSES AT REDDING--D. S. DENEHY SUCCUMBS TO CONTINUED ILLNESS--The many people of Surprise Valley were greatly grieved to learn of the passing of Dennis S. DENEHY at Redding last Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock, caused by the rupture of a blood vessel on the brain. Mr. DENEHY had been ill for a time and recently he was taken to Redding, where he was under the care of a specialist. Among the representative men of Modoc County, whose place of birth was in the British Isles and who with the industry and thrift characteristics of the people, was a successful, progressive and respected citizen of Modoc County and a successful merchant of Cedarville. A native of Ireland, he was born June 26, 1857, in the City of Cork, but was brought up and educated in England. In 1880, Mr. DENEHY came to America and for a while remained in the east working in New York City. Migrating to California in 1885, he was for ten years a wage earner in Surprise Valley. He then embarked in the mercantile pursuits, when he formed a partnership with James WILLIAMS of Fort Bidwell, with whom he built up a lucrative business, the firm name being D. S. DENEHY & Company. Under this same firm name the business was incorporated in May 1905, with a capital of $25,000. A short time after this a fine new brick building was erected and stocked with a complete line of dry goods, groceries, merchandise and all other kinds of implements, which soon earned their well known motto: "Everything for Everybody." In 1901, Mr. DENEHY was married to Miss Esther STREET and to them one child was born, Mrs. Dorothy SMITHSON, of San Francisco. He is survived by his wife and daughter and one grandchild, Allen Smith and a host of friends. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the cemetery."

"DERRICK--TERRIBLE TRAGEDY --- A Man Shoots His Wife, her Paramour and Kills Himself -- A dispatch from San Francisco to the Sacramento 'Record' dated April 4th, gives the following account of a horrible tragedy that occurred in this city [San Francisco]: A terrible affray occurred about 2 o'clock today on the SE corner of Market and Second streets. John D. DERRICK a ship carpenter, from Vallejo, married about 6 months ago the stewardess of the 'Orizaba,' but she left him soon after and came to this city, where she has led a life of ill fame. DERRICK frequently tried to get her back to him, but she refused all intercourse. Some weeks ago he broke into her house, on Mission street, to get her away, and was arrested on a charge of burglary but was discharged on examination. His trouble concerning her appears to have driven him crazy. This afternoon he went to her room, corner of Second and Market, and found her in company with Frank EDWARDS, a waiter in a restaurant on Second street. She introduced him to EDWARDS, and they exchanged a few common place remarks. Mrs. DERRICK said she was going out and prepared to put on her cloak and bonnet. DERRICK wanted to go with her; she refused his company, and said she wanted no more to do with him. He then drew a 4-barreled Remington pistol and fired at EDWARDS, shooting him back of the head. EDWARDS fell to the floor.

DERRICK then shot his wife once on the left side of the head, near the temple, and another through the left arm below the elbow. Then he put the pistol to his own head and lodged a bullet in his brain behind the right ear. His brains protruded from the wound, and he died at 20 minutes past 5 o'clock. EDWARDS is not dangerously wounded. The ball cut a deep scalp wound and caused profuse bleeding, but not serious. Mrs. DERRICK's wound is not necessarily fatal. With good attention, unless mortification sets in, she will recover. Upon searching DERRICK's pockets it was found that the act was deliberate, having had it in contemplation some weeks. Letters were found, written at various times, announcing suicidal intentions on account of his wife's infidelity. He made a written request that the city would take charge and educate his children, and requests his friends to bury him beside his 1st wife, and requests that under no circumstances shall his 2nd wife be buried near him -- declaring her the cause of his death. It appears that he mistook EDWARDS for a man named MITCHELL, whom he accuses of being his wife's paramour. To Charles MORGAN, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger, he writes: "When you receive this I shall no non est. I wish to inform you, that you may be the instrument of exposing my wife. Charles, she is a terrible bad woman -- artful, low, cunning and won the sympathy of many by her plausible and tricky tale. Beware of her. Caution all others to do the same She is bad; trust her not. She now contemplates going stewardess on the 'Idaho,' for Honolulu. God Bless you. Good bye. Yours, most respectfully, J.D. DERRICK." The tragedy created great excitement and crowds gathered in the vicinity all the afternoon, discussing the details." Source: Stockton Daily Independent, 6 Apr 1869. Transcribed by Dee Sardoc.

"De YOUNG--Dispatch from San Francisco, Dec. 1 -- This afternoon, about half past 3 o'clock, an intense excitement prevailed for some minutes over the report that Judge LAKE, of the Municipal Court, had shot and killed Charles De YOUNG, of the 'Chronicle,' on Montgomery street, between Sacramento and California street, and that Judge E.D. WHEELER, who was passing, had been mortally wounded. There are numerous versions of the affair, but that most prevalent is that the 2 met on the sidewalk and had high words on account of articles attacking the Judge recently published in the 'Chronicle,' when LAKE struck De YOUNG with the pistol on the side of the head, inflicting a somewhat sever flesh wound, and one chamber of the pistol being discharged, the bullet passing through the thigh of Judge WHEELER, inflicting a severe, but not dangerous, wound. LAKE claims that De YOUNG attempted to draw his pistol when he drew his and struck him as stated. LAKE was instantly arrested by officers who were near at the moment, and taken to Chief CROWLEY's office and from thence to Judge PENNIE's office where he gave bail to appear to answer a charge of assault to murder. De YOUNG's friends claim that his wound came from the bullet and not from a blow with the butt of a pistol as stated, and some of the bystanders thought they heard 2 shots instead of 1. The pistol had only 1 chamber discharged." Source: Stockton Daily Independent (Stockton, San Joaquin Co., CA), 2

"DODD--Noted Pacific Coast Mariner Dies, Aged 86. Captain Adams DODD was Honorary Member Merchants' Exchange. Captain Adams DODD, 86 years old, one of the early maritime notables of the Pacific Coast and a resident of San Francisco for over thirty-five years died yesterday morning in his home at 1325 Guerrero street after a brief illness. Captain DODD first set foot in California in 1861. He was a member of many maritime organizations and an honorary member of the Merchants' Exchange. For thirty-five years he had been living at his present home near that of Mayor Rolph. Captain DODD's adventures were so numerous, thrilling and typical of early life on the coast that a 500 - page manuscript book he wrote of his life had been circulated from hand to hand in the United States, Ireland and Australia. Captain DODD built two ships on the coast - The Venus, which won the Centennial boat races on the bay July 4, 1876, and the Howard, which was bought by the Russians just before the Russo-Japanese war and later captured outside Port Authur, where it was running the blockade. In 1867 he discovered an island near Alaska which he reported to the United States Geodetic Survey as Atkins Island, naming it after his ship. Among mariners it was known as DODD Island for a long time and is a favorite fishing spot of northern waters." Source: San Francisco Chronicle, 10 Sept 1922. "DORE--Died at Santa Ysabel, in this county, on Sunday morning, May 28th, of Consumption, Maurice DORE, aged about 18 years, son of Mr. Maurice DORE, of San Francisco. This young gentleman was the son of Maurice DORE, of San Francisco, and a nephew of Cornelius and Michael DORE of the Santa Ysabel ranch, this county. He had been an invalid for a great many years, and had lately been traveling, seeking for a place where he could find relief. He spent a few weeks in this county last Summer, but finding that fell consumption was eating up his vitals, concluded to go to the Sandwich Islands, where he remained a few weeks. He did not find them as suitable to his health as they were recommended. He finally returned to this county and lived at the Santa Ysabel until he was called away. Young Mr. DORE was as fine a young gentleman as we have ever met. Genial, kind, social and possessing a big heart, he always made friends wherever he went. In his death his parents have lost a dutiful son, society a model of a young gentleman, and his associates a true friend. May his ashes rest in peace." "DUNPHY--*Death of Wm. DUNPHY -- William DUNPHY, owner of the Poso ranch near King City, died of pneumonia at his home in San Francisco last Saturday evening in the 65th year of his age. Mr. DUNPHY was a native of Ireland and of an enterprising disposition, which manifested itself at an early age. At 12 years of age he went to sea, but he found this little to his taste and he soon made his way to Texas. When he was 18 years old he was figuring on contracts to supply the United States army with beef. He became a member of the Texan Rangers and served during the last year of the war with Mexico with that body. After the Mexican war he located in Brownsville, Texas, and engaged in the cattle business. When the discovery of gold in California was made public he journeyed on horseback with a party from Brownsville to the Pacific coast of Mexico, where the party embarked on a French ship for San Francisco. Mr. DUNPHY arrived here on Dec. 21, 1849. He went to the mines and was fairly successful. He preferred the cattle business, however, and in 1852 he was largely engaged in this, and it laid the foundation for a large fortune. In 1855 he formed a partnership with Thos. HILDRED, which continued up to 1881, when he purchased the HILDRED interest. He has since carried on the business alone. His holdings are large in Nevada and California in land and cattle, and he had valuable property in San Francisco. He took some part in politics, having assisted as a delegate in the nomination of Samuel J. TILDEN, and in the first nomination of Grover CLEVELAND for President of the United States, and has more than once been mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial chair in this state. He leaves a widow and 3 children. The funeral took place from St. Mary's cathedral, San Francisco, at 10 am last Tuesday." Source: Salinas Weekly Index, 22 Sept 1892. Transcribed by Dee.

"DWYER--Captain Thomas DWYER, who met his death in the railroad accident yesterday afternoon, was a prominent and wealthy citizen of Sacramento. Owing to his popularity and the esteem in which he was held his untimely death will be keenly felt in fact community. He came to San Francisco yesterday morning for the purpose of attending the exercises at St. Mary's College at Oakland, at which institution one of his sons, Thomas, is a pupil. He intended to return with his boy to Sacramento, and was on his way from college when he met his death. He was very prominent in Catholic circles and took a somewhat active part in politics and in the formation of the Iroquoio Club, of which he was elected Treasurer. He leaves an estate, it is estimated, valued at $500,000. At the time of his death he was president of the Sacramento Transportation Company, operating a large number of steamers and barges between the headwaters of the Sacramento river and San Francisco bay. He was the principal owner of a large brick kiln five miles below Sacramento on the river, and owned a large ranch in Colusa county and other large tracts of land fronting the river. The deceased was a native of County Wexford, Ireland, where he was born in 1831. In 1848 he migrated to Canada, and in 1852 he came to the United States. During the Pike's Peak excitement in 1859 he started for the gold diggings. On reaching the Missouri River he learned that the Pike's Peak excitement was a humbug. He then concluded to come to California, arriving here after a trip across the plains occupying a five months' journey. He spent a year in the Shasta county mines and subsequently he bought some timber land on the Sacramento River. He cut about 2,500 cords of wood and bought a barge and had the wood brought to Sacramento. This was the start of the rich transportation company of which he was President. He left a wife, four sons and a daughter. City Trustee McLAUGHLIN, one of his partners, came to Oakland last evening to take charge of

"DYER--Died - In New San Diego, Oct. 6, 1869, Mrs Julia Frances DYER, wife of H. C. DYER, aged 29 years 6 months. San Francisco and New York papers please copy. For three years past the deceased has been suffering with that deceptive yet fatal disease the consumption. Having tried all the powers of the healing art, she came with her husband, Mr. H. C. DYER, messenger of Wells Fargo and Co. Express Co. to San Diego, a few weeks since, hoping that the balmy air and invigorating climate of the place would lengthen out the days of life. But it seems the coming had been put off too long, and on Wednesday last, surrounded by loving friends, and consoled by the assuring words found in the Book of books, she quietly dropped into the gentle sleep called death. All that a loving husband and the kind kindness of friends could do was done for the sufferer during the days of her illness. Having lived the life of a true Christian woman, it was easy for her, thou so young and surrounded by all that makes life desirable, to answer the call of the kind Father, who doeth all things for the best.
