PREFACE

This second volume of the San Joaquin County Cemetery Records contains burial records from the office of Rural Cemetery in Stockton, California. Here are listed names of over 12,000 persons interred during the first hundred years of this largest cemetery in the city of Stockton.

A brief history of Stockton's burials may direct those who seek information about their people. Earliest burials (1847-1850) were haphazard. In 1850 ground was set aside for public burials, but little is known about these. 1851 saw the beginning of Citizen's Cemetery on land donated by Captain Weber. After a time this became unsatisfactory, and in 1861 sixteen public spirited citizens organized, under the 1859 State Rural Cemetery Act, the Stockton Rural Cemetery Association, a non-profit corporation, each lot owner being a member of the association. Seventy-five acres far from the center of the 1861 city, but completely surrounded by this 1961 city, were chosen for the cemetery site.

Founders of the cemetery were M. H. Bond, F. M. Fanning, Charles Campbell, Thomas Barnes, Samuel Fisher, Erastus Holden, Alfred Blake, William Brown, Edmund Moor, B. W. Bours, William Biven, Samuel Mark, P. M. Bowen, V. M. Peyton, William Thompson, and B. W. Owens.

During the years, bodies from smaller cemeteries have been moved to Rural Cemetery. The last burial in Citizen's Cemetery took place in 1862, and in 1895 the first removal was made to Rural Cemetery.

Final interment in the early Catholic Cemetery was in 1876. Prior to the consecration of a newer Catholic cemetery in 1880, many families of that faith bought family plots in Rural Cemetery, and many of those lots are still in use.

The Odd Fellows Cemetery established in 1854 was sold in 1909, and bodies were moved to Rural Cemetery.

The Hebrew Cemetery, still in use and oldest in the city, dating from 1851, will be recorded in a later volume.

"In 1862 Rural Cemetery had become the recognized non-sectarian cemetery for the entire vicinity of Stockton", writes Mr. Glenn A. Kennedy. "Hundreds of men and women who helped to write California history,...from the days of 1849 until the present time are recorded in the burial records.

This cemetery is an interesting part of the history of the community, for here is the last resting place of the leaders and the followers, the powerful and the weak, the good and the bad, and all of them left some mark on Time, although it may be merely a scratch."

The records in this book give burial date* and age of all of those interred before 1921. The exact location of interment, by lot and block number, and family plot if used, can be secured. In some instances birthplace and date, nationality, and occupation are available. For this additional information members of San Joaquin Genealogical Society will search for fifty cents a family name. Address inquiries to: San Joaquin Genealogical Society, c/o Mrs. L. D. Wakefield, 78 W. Downs St., Stockton 4, California.

When Volume One of these records was compiled, it was thought that two volumes would serve to cover records for all of the county. However, to include all, another volume or more may be required.

The San Joaquin Genealogical Society is deeply grateful to Mr. Glenn A. Kennedy, Secretary of the Board of Stockton Rural Cemetery Association, for his interest, expenditure of time, and his invaluable help in making available the records, his knowledge of the history of the cemetery, and his suggestions for the presentation of the material in this volume.

* Burial in this cemetery may have taken place a number of years after death, since many bodies were transferred from other cemeteries.
